Being a column in which the publisher just "blows off the steam."

By Willard Jones

WE COMPLAIN sometimes about the hard time we are having. But we seldom realize that going up against difficulties makes us work harder for success. It's good for us, too.

An unknown poet expressed similar thoughts in a poem entitled "Good Timber" that makes good fodder for thought . . .

The tree that never had to fight
For sun and air and light
That stood out in he open plain,
And always got its share of rain,
Never became a forest king
But lived and died a scrubby thing.

The man who never had to toil,
Who never had to win his share
Of sun and sky and light and air,
Never became a manly man
But lived and died as he began.

Good timber does not grow in ease:
The stronger wind, the tougher trees.
The farther sky, the greater length;
The more the storm, the more the strength;
By sun and cold, by rain and snow
In tree or man good timber grows.

Where thickest stands the forest growth
We find the patriarchs of both,
And they hold converse with the stars
Whose broken branches show the scars
Of many winds and much of strife:
This is the common law of life.

IT'S FUNNY, but it works! Take your house number and double it. Add five. Multiply by half a hundred, then add your age. Add the number of days in a year and subtract 615.

The last two figures will be your age: the others will be your house number.

PERKY SQUIBS picked up here and there by this columnist include the following:

How much the TV dancing girls are paid depends greatly on the figure.

A writer contends that American girls work too much. We'll bet the ol kitchen has never noticed it.

Give time time and it will wound all heels.

There is no better example than a mother and daughter of how one thing brings up another.

The outcome of a race often depends on how the jockey handles the bridle. Every little bit counts.

Come baseball season and the kids will be playing scrub again. Then mother will carry on at the kitchen sink.

They teach dancing in an Eastern prison. Getting the inmates ready for the coming-out party, eh?

REGULAR church attendance is good for all of us. It gives us inspiration for the coming week and calms the tattered nerves resulting from the trials and tribulations of the preceding week.

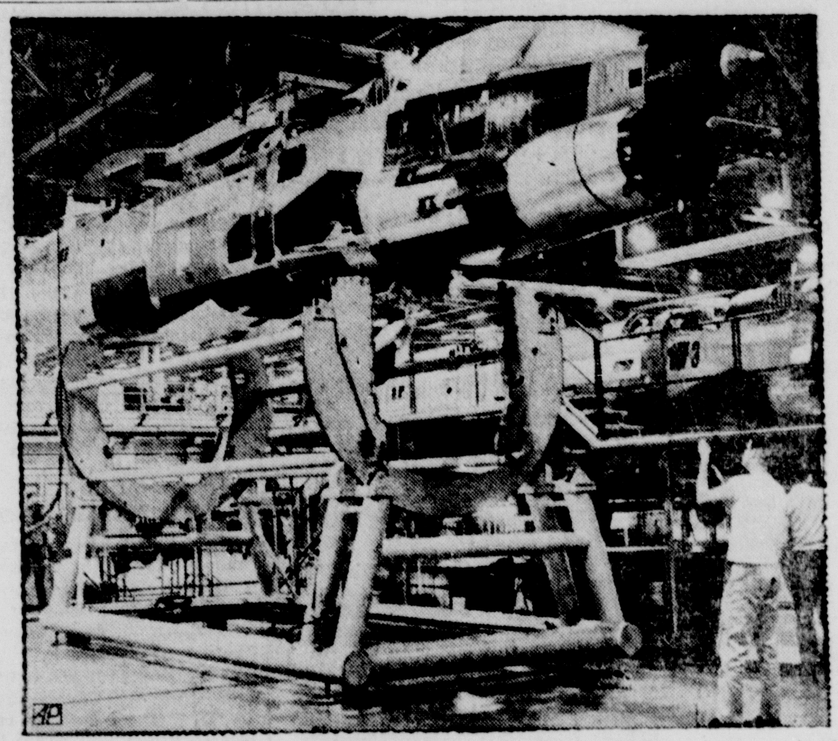

A little ode we picked up the other day has a bit of philosophy that may not be sound, but it is thought provoking . . .

Each time I pass a church,
I always pay a visit;
So when at last I'm carried in,
The Lord won't say, "Who is it?"

SOUTHWEST'S NEWEST and most ultra-modern theater is nearing completion in Fort Worth. This fabulous aluminum-domed structure will house Casa Manana Musicals, which will feature outstanding hits from Broadway. This first season will present for the first time in this area "theater-in-the-round" musicals including "Can-Can," "Carousel," "Pajama Game, "The Merry Widow" and "Call Me Madam." This entirely new concept of summer musicals for an actual feeling of participation on the part of the audience has been widely acclaimed in other parts of the nation. Many Hamlin area people are scheduled to see the musicals.

First Wheat for Section Expected Within Few Days

Finest grain crop in the history of the Hamlin territory now is approaching harvest, declare grain men and farmers with whom a Herald reporter has conferred recently.

A record crop of probably some 650,000 bushels of wheat in this region is predicted—provided no unforeseen catastrophes such as bad weather or a sudden invasion of insects comes within the next three or four weeks, when the crop shall have been moved to markets and elevators.

With an estimated 30,000 acres of wheat now practically made, a record yield of 20 to 25 bushels per acre is contemplated.

Several thousand acre of oats, barley and rye also is in the pink of condition in the region. Much of these other grains will be baled for feed.

Fine weather conditions have persisted in the territory most of the season. Good rains have come at opportune times for growth and development. Some high winds and hail have done minor damage in some areas, but practically all of the crop can be harvested, it is believed.

Fred B. Moore Jr. of the Moore Grain Company, said that market for wheat today is from $1.85 to $1.90 per bushel for No. 1 grain.

First wheat is expected to be brought to Hamlin within the next 10 days, Moore said.

Trade Buck Plan Going Over Good, Meeting Advised

Hamlin airport, north of the city, is due to be improved soon under a program mapped by the aviation committee of the Board of Community Development, it was reported by Gene Prewit, committee chairman, when the board of directors of the civic organization met Monday evening in regular monthly business session at BCD offices in the city hall.

Following several requests from oil concerns having operations in the Hamlin territory for improved airplane landing facilities here, a committee was appointed at last month's directors' meeting to investigate the condition of the field and hangar and make a report to the BCD group.

Prewit said plans are to repair the small hangar at the field and improve the runways. Only the north-south runway has been usabl for several years. An east-west runway will be recleared and put into shape through cooperation of the BCD, city and county.

Trade Buck plan of trade stimulation, being promoted by the retail trade committee of the BCD, is being accepted wholeheartedly by merchants of Hamlin, according to Joe Hudspeth, chairman of the committee. A minimum of 30 participating merchants was set as a goal to get the plan underway. Total of 26 had signed up to use the plan through Monday, Hudspeth said, and he believed as many as 40 or 45 might be signed before the project is started.

The Trade Buck plan would be an exclusive Hamlin plan of issuing Trade Bucks with purchases similar to trading stamp programs except that the Trade Bucks may be redeemed in Hamlin by any merchandise, service or payment on account.

32,396 Acres Put In Arceage Reserve

With the 1958 acreage reserve sign-up substantially completed, 727 Jones County farmers have agreed to place a total of 32,396 "allotment" acres of basic crops in the soil bank reserve this year. This compares with 756 farmers who reserved 30,308 acres under same program last year, according to officials of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee office in Anson.

By crops, the local acreage reserve sign-up is as follows: Wheat, 12,444 acres; and cotton, 19 952 acres.

If all applications on file are accepted and farmers comply with the program, they could earn a maximum of $[illegible]9.93 on the acreage offered in signed applications.

The acreage reserve is a soil bank program under which farmers agree to reduce their plantings below their acreage allotments of the basic crops as a means of reducing surpluses. Farmers earn payments on the land held out of production. The land must not be harvested or grazed, and must be kept free of noxious weeds and protected from erosion.

When the 1958 acreage reserve sign-up for spring crops began last January, the response in most parts of the country was so heavy that funds were exhausted and many farmers were placed on waiting lists. Later an additional authorization was provided and most farmers on waiting lists were able to complete their applications.

Harold Eades Named To Crosbyton VA Job

Harold Eades, vocational agriculture teacher in Hamlin High School for the past nine years, was named VA teacher at Crosbyton High School last week-end, according to word from the Crosbyton school board.

Eades, who was not reelected for the coming term here because of a decrease in number of students taking VA, was one of 41 applicants for the Crosbyton post, T. C. Blankinship is head of the Hamlin VA department, and he is being retained in that capacity.

Eades has been popular here among the boys and others, having helped to build one of the strongest Future Farmers of America chapters in the region. He will leave for his new position in late summer, he says.

West Lakes Catch Lots of Water from Week-End Rains

Good rains that to most of the Hamlin territory last week put lots of water in the two Hamlin West Lakes—the first running water that has come to the region in several months—according to Fank Cauble, lake keeper. The Lower Lake, biggest of the two, was practically full this week, he said. It is the first time the lake has been full since a year ago.

Only about five inches of water was caught in the big Hamlin South Lakes, according to Bill Rountree, city water superintendent. It was about two-thirds full Wednesday, registering 39 inches down from the spillway.

Last week's rains totaled 2.20 inches, bringing the month's total to 3.11 inches, according to the government gauge maintained by Rountree at the city pump station. By days, rain received this month is tabulated as follows: May 1, .11 of inch; May 2, .80; May 12, .61; May 13, 1.38; and May 18, .21.

The 3.11 inches for May brought the year's total rainfall at Hamlin to 8.52 inches. January had registered 1.12 inches, February 1.05, March 1.14 and April 2.10.

The array of golf equipment prizes that have been posted for the tournament have been on display for several days at White Auto Store. They are to be moved to the club house at Lakeview Golf Club today (Thursday), declared B. O. Bell, who is in charge of the awards.

Qualifying rounds for determining places in the various flights of players in the tournament have been underway for several days. They will continue through Friday, according to Jim Howard King, in charge of the qualifying play.

Following the recent rains that have come to the area, the playing course of Lakeview Golf Club is in the best condition it has been in the course's history. The grass greens are beautifully matted with smooth turf, and the fairways are in good shape, too.

Entries will be accepted until the qualifying rounds are completed, it is announced. Entrance fee is $7.50.

Wheat Growers Will Vote on Acreage Allotments and Parity Again June 20

Wheat growers of the Hamlin section, as well as the rest of the country will again vote on wheat marketing quotas on June 20.

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson has proclaimed marketing quotas on the 1959 crop of wheat; proclaimed a national wheat acreage allotment of 55,000,000 acres, the minimum permitted by law; set June 20 as the date for a grower referendum in which growers will approve or disapprove quotas and announced that the minimum national average support price for 1959 production will be determined before the June 20 referendum.

This is the sixth successive proclamation on marketing quotas and is required because the present wheat supply is 57 per cent above the marketing quota level. It is also the fifth consecutive year that the 55,000,000 acre minimum allotment has been applicable.

Texas' share of the national allotment for 1959 has been set at 4,099,094 acres. The 1957 allotment was 4,164,302 acres.

If marketing quotas are approved by wheat producers in the June 20 referendum, the national average support price available to eligible growers in the commercial area (Texas is in this area) will not be less than the minimum support to be announced later. Individual farm marketing quotas wil be the normal or actual production, whichever is larger, from the farm acreage allotment.

Growers in the commercial area who plant within their allotments will be eligible for price supports on their entire production. Those who exceed their farm allotments will be subject to marketing quota penalties if they have more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest or have not signed applications for exemption under the feed wheat provision permitting 30 acres or less to be used exclusively for feed on the farm.

If marketing quotas are disapproved, there will be no restrictions on wheat marketings. Acreage allotments will remain in effect as a condition of eligibility for price support at the 50 per cent of parity rate. In the referendum for 1958 crop wheat, 86.2 per cent of the farmers voting favored quotas.

Student Transfers to Other Districts Urged

Transfer of school students from one school district to another should be made by June 1, according to Superintendent of Hamlin Schools C. F. Cook, in order to have the scholastics counted for state aid in the receiving district for next schoo lterm.

Parents and guardians of students, knowing now that they will move to another district before school starts next fall, are urged to file the transfers with any local school or with the county school superintendent by June 1.

No Protests Heard to Santa Fe Application To Discontinue Trains

While regret is being expressed by people of the Hamlin territory that an old fixture of the area, the Santa Fe Railway passenger trains, may be discontinued soon because of loss in business, no serious objections to the proposed cessation of operations of the two-car train that has carried mail and express for more than 50 years to the region, have been seen heard.

Santa Fe officials who were in Hamlin last week advised that application for discontinuing the trains would be filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission. Passenger business on the line from Sweetwater to Kansas City has dwindled to practically nothing, the Santa Fe officials declared. The mail contract, which has been the principal source of revenue for the line, will soon be cancelled by the government, and motor transports will be used for handling the mails.

ABBEY MAUSOLEUM—The body of Andrew Jackson Houston, son of Sam Houston, lies in this once stately but now broken down mausoleum on a Virginia hill-top just across the Potomac River from the nation's capitol. DO YOU REGULARLY ATTEND YOUR CHURCH?

Recently in his church's weekly bulletin a Hamlin pastor declared: I have read twice the article recently printed that only 31 per cent of all Texans attend church, and that only 17 per cent attend regularly. This is certainly one place where Texas cannot brag. We must strive to correct this, not for the sake of facts and figures, but for the sake of life and salvation."

Checking the figures of Sunday School and church attendance in Hamlin, it is revealed that less than 25 per cent of the people of the community regularly attend the services of all the churches of the community. The average Sunday School attendance is around 1,100 per Sunday. Morning worship service attendance is slightly more than this number, while the evening church service attendance probably is less than 1,000.

The fact that probably half the people of the community profess to belong to some church, yet many seldom enter the churches, is a disturbing factor for ministers and others interested in the work of the churches.

Another great paradox that faces the entire United States, Texas and Hamlin as well: In 1957 our church membership soared past the 100,000,000 mark, a growth of three per cent; and one and one-half per cent increase upon the rate of population. Sunday School enrollment hit an all-time high of 40,000,000. More than 3,000 new congregations came into being. Eight million copies of the Bible were sold. It would appear that our nation is on its knees in worship.

On the other side of the ledger there is another story: Americans spent three times as much on liquor as they gave to their churches. The number of alcoholics, 5,000,000, crime at an all-time high, pornographic literature flooding news stands as never before, make it appear our nation has assumed a dual personality. On one side, clear evidence of interest in religion; on the other symptoms of a weak and immoral society.

Justice and Women

It is an accepted fact that juries tend to "go easy" on women, especially the pretty ones and the good actresses (and all women are actresses) in murder cases.

Not so long ago we read of a case where a woman had picked up a gun and, as she claimed, was taking it to her husband to ask him to kill her, when the gun went off and, instead, she shot and killed her husband.

A jury acquitted this woman, as juries have done so often in cases of this kind. The husband, who is dead, and who was not able to give his side of the story, remains dead. He is remembered as having been the stronger of the two and the sympathy in such a case has been bestowed upon the person who fired the shot that killed a veteran who had just returned from a year and a half overseas' duty.

There are many similar cases we have noticed in past years. If there is a scuffle for a gun, perhaps a gun obtained by the woman, and the gun goes off and the man is killed, the woman is quite often freed.

If, on the other hand, a man kills a woman, everyone raises his or her hands and says, "What a terrible thing that awful man did to the poor, helpless creature!"

Some of this partiality to women is a result of the fact that men outnumber women on juries. On many juries women are not represented at all.

In other countries except America, with few exceptions, the men wear the pants in the family and are actually the head of the household. In these countries women might be entitled to special consideration in the courts. However, in the United States, most men are men in name only and women, throughout all professions, take advantage of all their traditional special considerations, and have their cake and eat it, too.

Best Man I Ever Knew

There was a man sent from God whose name was Caddell. The floor beneath his pew is worn white. He never misses a service at his church, and he always occupies the same seat directly in front of the pulpit.

Though a farmer and Baptist deacon, Caddell has earned the respect of his fellows. I'm not the only one who calls him the best man I ever knew.

"I love my church," he is forever saying. During the depression Caddell mortgaged his home to keep the church building from going to a loan company.

"Let's get at it right away" is his favorite remark when his church votes a new project. "Too old to waste time. Let me see this church win at least one more victory for Jesus before I go!"

His record will live forever. His secret? He feared God.—W. E. Grindstaff.

Life Saving Answers

Do you know: (1) How to tell whether or not you are over-driving your headlights? (2) if it is safer to hit a fixed object or roll your car over at given speeds? (3) how to maintain control of your car when a tire blows out?

"Knowing the answer to questions such as these are reacting correctly when confronted by such situations could save your life," A. Ross Rommel, president of the Texas Safety Association, reminded motorists of this fact recently as he urged them to learn to drive defensively. He spoke in behalf of the defensive driving program which TSA is conducting throughout Texas.

Rommel explained that the defensive driver is one who drives in such a manner as to avoid accidents by expecting the unexpected.

"He realizes that, in addition to turning in a safe driving job himself, he also has a responsibility to make up for the shortcomings of others. Such an attitude comes naturally to persons accustomed to accepting their moral responsibilities in other areas of daily living. However, other motorists and pedestrians are not the only hazards that may confront the defensive driver," the TSA president warned. "He must also be alert to the dangers presented by the unexpected."

Soil Conservation District Completes Sixteenth Year with Accomplishments

The year 1957 was truly a year of mixed blessings and disappointments to the farmer and rancher in the district, declares the annual report of the California Creek Soil Conservation District, released las tweek-end by officials of the office at Stamford, headquarters of the district. The district embraces territory bounded by the Clear Fork of the Brazos River on the south and containing the northwest corner of Fisher County, the north two-thirds of Jones County, the south half of Haskell County, the northwest corner of Shackelford County and the southwest corner of Throckmorton County.

The California Creek Soil Conservation District has completed its sixteenth year since it received a certificate of organization.

The year 1957 has been a turbulent year. The long drouth was broken by excessive spring and fall rains which hampered the planting and harvesting of crops.

Sppervisors of the California Creek Soil Conservation District are as follows: Lambert W. Stenholm of Avoca, chairman; J. E. Nix of Anson, vice chairman; B. Kupatt of Sagerton, sceretary-treasurer; Brooke Early of Haskell and D. B. Sauls of Hamlin, members. Sauls replaced Revis Robertson of Hamlin last October.

In order to promote better understanding of the practices and results of conservation, the California Creek Soil Conservation District supervisors have attended many district, area and state meetings. To pass this information on to the district cooperators, regular news letters were sent to the cooperators and to many businessmen interested in the district program. Each week timely news releases were sent to six local newspaper for publication. The radio and TV have been another means of reaching not only the cooperators, but other farmers, ranchers and townspeople in the district. Also at several meetings slides were shown of conservation practices applied in the district.

In 1957 the district sponsored a grass and land judging contest. Ribbons were given to teams and individual winners. Pictures of the winning teams appeared in several of the district news letters.

The district has sponsored an essay contest for all the schools of the district. The local winners of the contest will be sent to the Fort Worth Press awards essay contest.

During the past year 64 new cooperators farming 19,910 acres of land have been added to the California Creek Soil Conservation District. There are 2,823 operating units in the district covering 720,679 acres of land.

The land owners in the district have made good use of the district owne dequipment the past year. Three heavy type shredders have been added to the district equipment. The large number of miles of terraces built and the acres of soil improving crops in this district attest to the fact that the farmer and rancher are becoming very soil conscious as well as water conscious.

Technicians of the Soil Conservation Service have been of great service to the district. Besides doing the technical work required on engineering and agronomic practices in the district, the technciians have assisted supervisors with regular news releases to the press, TV and radio. They have also assisted the supervisors with the writing of the district news letters on timely conservation problems.

The district now has the following equipment, valued at approximately $7,200. This equipment is rented to cooperators through the vocational agriculture teachers and custodians in the district: Five combination legume and fertilizer drills, rental charge 50 cents an acre; seven two-row legume and fertilizer drills, 50 cents an acre; seven two-row legume and grass seeders, 25 cents an acre; two grass drills, 50 cents an acre; two land levelers or land planes, 50 cents an acre or $5 a day; three border ridgers, $2 per day; two Clint Harber type cultivators with attached fertilizers and seeders, 50 cents an acre; one rock picker, $5 a day; one Inter-row seeder, 25 cents an acre; three heavy duty rotary shredders, 25 cents an acre or $3 minimum per day.

Pointers on Cotton Root Rot Offered In Free Pamphlet

Cotton root rot is one of the most common plant diseases in Texas, Hamlin area farmers are reminded as the new cotton growing season gets underway. It generally is found throughout the state and in this area particularly.

About 80 per cent of the wild and cultivated plants in Texas are susceptible to the disease in varying degrees. It is combatted by growing resistant or immune plants, dry-out and acidifying the soil and by certain cultural practices. The disease seldom can be cured after it attacks a plant.

Plants suddenly die after the first symptoms of wilting. When pulled from the soil, the bark of the roots is decayed and brownish, and wooly strands of fungus frequently are on the surface. Under field conditons, the disease appears on spots which spread rapidly. Affected plants die suddenly, often after having made excelent growth. Large trees may die more slowly.

The Texas Agriculutral Extension Service has recently released a leaflet, "Cotton Root Rot," which gives much valuable information on the disease. Some of the sections in the leaflet are control on field crops, fruits and nuts, vegetables and ornamental plants.

It also contains a section on identification and has a chart which names trees, ornamentals, shrubs and flowers that are resistant to the disease.

The leaflet may be obtained from local county agents or the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas. Ask for L-390.

Boys' Quartet from Rotan Presents Rotary Program

A musical program of about 45 minutes was presented by a boys' quartet from Rotan High School as the program features of the regular luncheon meeting of the Hamlin Rotary Club last Wednesday at the oil mill guest house.

Directed and accompaned by Mrs. J. H. Harris, the quartet rendered classical, popular and bee-pop numbers of every description until, as one Rotarian put it, they were "plumb tuckered out from singing."

The quartet, composed of Lloyd Hurst, Ed Patterson, A. Garcia and Leroy Hill, was presented by C. L. Howard, program chairman for the day.

Besides the visitors from Rotan, other guests at the Wednesday luncheon meeting included Curtis Witt, Bernard Buie and Cleburne Huston of Stamford; and W. M. Shaddix of Abilene.

Cattle and Calf Market Strong, But Fails to Regain Losses of Last Week

Cattle and calves were slow and about steady on the Fort Worth market Monday, declares the weekly market summary of Ted Gouldy, special market reporter for The Herald. He continues: Salesmen were asking for higher prices following last week's declines, however, the buying side held firmly to the recently established lower schedule of values.

Good to choice slaughter yearlings and steers cashed at $24 to $27, and medium and lower grades cashed at $16 to $23. Fat cows sold from $17 to $19.50, with a few fancy young cows to $20 and $21 and above when maintaining heiferish characteristics. Canners and cutters sold from $12 to $17.50. Bulls drew $18 to $22.

Good and choice slaughter calves sold from $23 to $27.50, with heavies around 600 pounds and up at $26 down. Common and medium offerings sold from $17 to $23, and culls sold from $14 to $17.

Medium and good stocker steer calves sold from $24 to $30, and medium and good stocker steer yearlings sold from $22 to $27, with some choice thin lightweight yearlings to $28 and $28.50. Plainer stockers ranged around $20 to $24.

Sheep and lambs were steady with last week's close at Fort Worth Monday. Good and choice spring lambs sold mainly at $21 to $22, a few topping at $22.50. Less than choice spring lambs, while held in line with the lowered range established late last week, were still finding the better outlet to packers. Old crop yearling lambs cashed at strong prices, and sheep were steady.

Good and choice slaughter spring lambs sold from $21 to $22.50, and cull to medium springers sold from $15 to $20. Stocker and feeder spring lambs sold from $18 to $20.

Good and choice yearling lambs sold from $17 to $18.50, and cull to medium old crop lambs sold from $15 to $16.50. Feeder yearling wethers sold at $16.50 down. Yearling ewes sold from $19.50 down.

Aged wethers drew $12 to $13.50, and two-year-olds reached $15. Old ewes drew $7 to $8.

Hogs were steady to 25 cents higher at Fort Worth Monday than the close last week. Choice butcher hogs sold at $22 to $22.50, and medium to good hogs sold for $19 to $21.50. Sows cashed at $17.50 to $20. Stags drew $11 to $12.

The stocker and feeder cattle sales staged at Fort Worth this season will all be two-day affairs.

This arrangements was worked out with the convenience of the buyers who must travel a distance in mind, since it will enable them to see good commercial Southwestern Herefords on Thursdays and good commercial Angus stockers and feeders on Fridays.

Thus the travel expense will be virtually halved for buyers who attend these affairs.

The consignors will also find that the additional time will enable the salesmen to work the cattle out in more leisurely fashion and thus enable the commission firms themselves to contact their customers concerning filling orders for these cattle. This should strengthen the selling side considerably, since often a phone call is all that is needed to make the cattle bring that extra 50 cents or $1 per 100.

The first of these sales takes place Thursday, June 19, and will feature the white-faces. The second sale will be Friday, June 20. Both events will be jointly sponsored by the Fort Worth Market Institute and the breed associations.

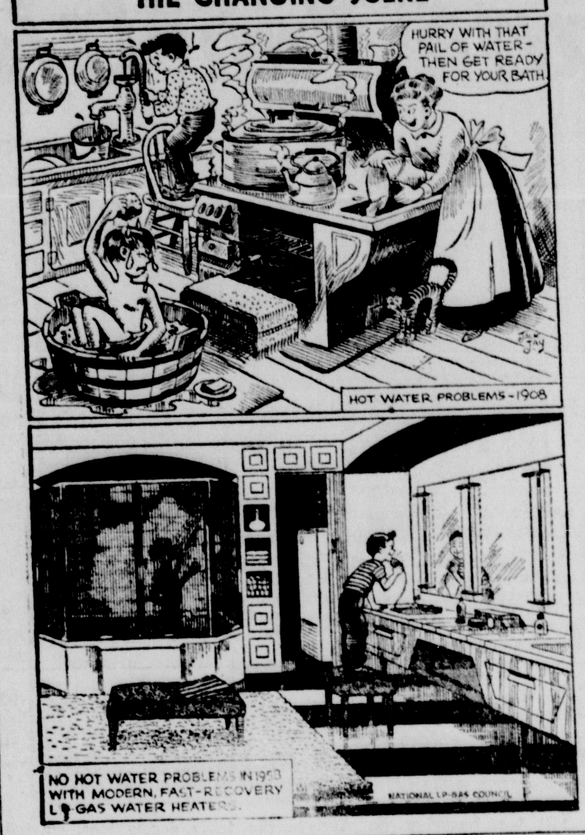

Complete information, entry blanks, etc. may be obtained by contacting the Market Institute, Livestock Exchange Building, Fort Worth 6, Texas, or any livsetock commission firm or dealer on the Fort Worth market.

Henry Elder, secretary of the Texas Hereford Association, 1105 Burk Burnett Building, Fort Worth, can supply information to those interested in Herefords.

Ronald Blackwell, secretary of the Texas Angus Association, Livestock Exchange Building, Fort Worth 6, Texas, can supply information to those interested in Angus cattle.

Judging will begin promptly at 7:00 o'clock and will be conducted by the breed associations. Cattle to be entered in the judging feature of the events, must be in the yards by 5:00 a. m. Selling will begin at 9:00 a. m. All cattle must have a signed entry blank before they can be yarded in the show and sale division of the yards.

THE CHANGING SCENE

TEACHERS OF HAMLIN SCHOOLS

Short biographies of teachers in the Hamlin schools have been prepared during the year by members of the Fifty-Two Study Club as a feature project. Sketches of two of the teachers in the series are given below:

GEORGIA MOORE.

Georgia Moore, who lives at 138 West Lake Drive, grew up south of Merkel. She graduated from Merkel High School and attended West Texas State Teachers College at Canyon, later graduating from McMurry College at Abilene.

Miss Moore taught in the rural schools of Jones, Eastland, Robinson and Taylor Counties, including two years at Trent, before coming to Hamlin. She has taught in the fourth grade at Hamlin for the past 31 years.

She is a member of the First Methodist Church of Hamlin. Her hobbies are reading and doing hand work.

ODEAN MURPHREE.

Born in Cullman, Alabama, Odean Murphree is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Murphree. The family came to Texas when she was one year old, moving to Hamlin during her girlhood.

Miss Murphree attended schools of Hamlin, graduating from Hamlin High School in 1941. She attended Bethany Nazarene College at Bethany, Oklahoma, and graduated in 1945 with a BFA degree, having majored in public school music.

Miss Murphree taught in the elementary grades in Henryetta, Oklahoma, for two years before coming back to Hamlin to teach in the local schools. She has taught in Hamlin for the past 11 years, and has been principal of the Elementary School since 1952, and also teaches the fifth grade.

She received her masters degree from McMurry College in Abilene in 1957.

Miss Murphree is a member of the Church of the Nazarene.

She declares her hobby is music and record collecting.

COMPARATIVE.

The husband was curious. "Why do you weep and sniffle at a movie over the imaginary woes of people you never met?"

Wife—"The same reason why you scream and yell when a man you don't know slides into second base."

Characters do not change. Oninions alter, but characters are only developed.—Disraeli.

Children's Photos To Be Made for Picture Contest

Wednesday, May 28, is the day that the kiddies of the Hamlin territory will again meet their photographer friend, Winston Lucas of Irving, and have their pictures made for the annual children's photo contest.

Mr. Lucas will be at the Hassen building, next door to West Texas Utilities Company, on Wednesday, May 28 only, between 10:30 a. m. and 6:00 p. m. to make pictures of children in this area.

The photos will be made free of charge and each child will have his picture published in The Hamlin Herald. In addition, the children will be competing for $18.20 in prizes, being offered for the three best photographs made during the day.

Proofs will be shown and from these the parents may make their choice for the pictures you wish to appear in The Herald.

Of course you may purchase extra pictures, but no purchase is necessary in order to compete for the prizes, Lucas explains.

Now don't forget the date and time, Wednesday, May 28, only, from 10 a. m. till 6:00 p. m. Tell your friends who live in Hamlin as well as those who live in the country will be quite happy and proud to see the kiddies' pictures in The Herald. There is no age limit.

New Variety of Bush Watermelon Practical For Smaller Gardens

Home gardeners with limited space have ever been able to grow the large vining types of watermelons, points out County Agent Bill Lehmberg.

Texas Agricultural Experiment Station has just released a new variety of watermelon designed to fit into even the smallest home garden. This variety has been named the Bush Desert King and, as the name suggests it grows in a bush form rather than in the characteristic vine form.

The plant of this melon usually extends from four to six feet from tip to tip and measures about 18 inches in height. Dr. H. C. Mohr, who designed this variety, states that it requires very little more space than a bush squash. This plant is very resistant to wind damage in the early spring, and heavy foliage protects the fruit from sunburn and from crow damage. The melon is yellow fleshed and of very good quality. The average size is from 20 to 25 pounds, concludes Lehmberg.

JUST A WARNING.

A motorist stopped at small garage and complained to the mechanic, "Whenever I hit 80 miles there's a knocking in the engine."

After a lengthy examination and testing, the mechanic drawled, "I don't see anything wrong, mister. It must be the good Lord warning you."

Women and Women's Organizations May Vie for Awards in Traffic Safety

American women who plan and carry out traffic safety programs are eligible for nation-wide awards totaling $3,500, according to the National Safety Council.

These are the 1958 Carol Lane awards, presented to the three individual women and three women's or parents group who, in the opinion of a board of judges, have developed and directed the most effective traffic safety programs between June 15, 1957, and June 15, 1958.

Deadline for all entries is midnight June 15, 1958.

Last year's top individual winner was a Colorado woman who helped initiate state-wide safety committees within county and local clubs of her state's Home Demonstration Council. An Ohio women's organization took top honors in the group category by organizing a county traffic safety committee.

The awards are named for the women's travel director of Shell Oil Company, and are administered by the National Safety Council through a grant from Shell. They are presented each October to the winners at the National Safety Congress in Chicago.

The Carol Lane awards are the only national recognition for women's contribution to the preservation of lives through traffic safety programs in their community or state.

Entries should be mailed to Alice Catherine Mills at the National Safety Council, 425 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, where entry blanks and information about the awards may also be obtained.

SWITCHES AUTOMATICALLY FROM HEATING TO COOLING

The Heat Pump is completely automatic. During changeable weather, even if it is within the hour, the Heat Pump will switch from heating to cooling or back again if the outside temperature so requires.

You do not need to change the temperature dial, you just set the thermostat for the temperature you desire and forget it. The Heat Pump is the ONLY completely automatic Air Conditioner.

Install the All Electric HEAT PUMP

COMPLETE YEAR-ROUND AIR CONDITIONING IN ONE UNIT

The All-Electric Heat Pump provides complete automatic "comfort conditioning" for your home the year around, using only air and electricity. The same unit that cools your home also heats it. It also removes excess humidity and filters out dust and pollen. Because only air and electricity are used, the Heat Pump provides maximum cleanliness and complete safety.

Here's How It Works

The Heat Pump operation uses the basic principle that heating and cooling is a matter of moving heat from one place to another.

In winter the Heat Pump extracts heat units from outside air (even if it is freezing) and pumps warm air into your house. In summer the heat pump reverses itself automatically and operates like any refrigerated air conditioner—it takes the heat out of the house and pumps it outside.

Call or come to see us and our air conditioning engineers will explain the Heat Pump more thoroughly to you.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin.—At least one segment of Texas economy—highway construction—is booming. One reason: The Texas Highway Department isn't letting grass grow under its feet in getting federal emergency projects underway.

Low bids tabulated at the department's May letting totaled $19,187,933. State Highway Engineer DeWitt C. Greer, in opening the May letting, said that about $25,000,000 in road projects would be up for bids next month.

This figure, if reached, would set a new record.

A big chunk of this upsurge comes from Texas' $36,000,000 share of the federal emergency fund, authorized by Congress this year to get extra money into the economy fas tand provide needed roads. All of this work must be put under contract by December.

Texas highway officials hope to beat the deadline by several months. Time was, too, when the emphasis was mainly on the need for fine, new roads to accommodate the growing stream of fine, new cars. Today there's also emphasis on the number of people who will be put to work, the money they will spend on groceries, cars, clothes.

High Tension. — With millions involved, the highway lettings are scenes of high tension. Sunburned, sport shirted contractors, plus materials men and insurers flock to the department's hearing room where the sealed bids are opened and read, item by item.

Department personnel have an electronic computer to add up the item bids and determine the low bidder. Results are announced later in the day. But contractors or their representatives take down the bids on the spot and make rapid calculations.

It isn't hard to spot the man who's just realized he missed a million dollar job by bidding a few hundred dollars high. Typical muttered comment: "He can't do it for the money!"

Bumpy Road. — Although the mammoth highway building program is moving forward, top speed, there are problems along the road. Chief bone of contention, now in the courts, is whether cost of relocating utilities to make way for new construction should be borne by the cities and utility companies or the state.

A law passed by the last Legislature authorizes the state, with 50 per cent federal aid, to pay for utility relocation on the federal projects.

Attorney General Will Wilson has ruled that part of the law invalid in "donating public monies to corporations and individuals . . . for privat eand individual purposes." Wilson filed a test case in an Austin district court.

City officials through the Texas League of Municipalities, take the opposite view. They contend that in other states cities get this money for utility moving and that Texans, through federal taxes contribute to the fund. Besides, they add, it will cost the cities $20,000,000.

Hospital Officials.— The Texas Board for State Hospitals and Special Schools has a flock of new names topping its roster of officials.

W. W. Heath of Austin was named chairman of the board. He succeeds Dr. Raleigh Ross, also of Austin. Howard Hellepsen of Houston is the new vice chairman.

Raymond W. Vowell was appointed executive director of the hospital system. This post has been vacant nearly a year.

It was announced also that Dr. C. J. Ruilmann, now commissioner of mental health for Tennessee, will belcome director of Texas mental hospitals in June.

Heath, appointed to the board by Governor Price Daniel last fall is prominent in business circles as an attorney, banker and rancher. He also is a former county judge, secretary of state and assistant attorney general.

Short Snorts.— A slight downward trend in joblessness was noted in the Texas Employment Commission's latest report. Number of persons receiving unemployment compensation checks dropped from 90,349 to 90,913.

A former TEC attorney, Lee G. Williams, has filed suit in an Austin disrtict court for reinstatement to the jbo from which he was fired last month. Williams contends that his position in Texas Merit System corresponds to federal civil service status and he cannot be fired for the reasons given. A majority of the three-man commission said they had "no confidence" in Williams.

Twenty-two bus companies operating in Texas have asked the Texas Railroad Commission for permission to hike their intrastate (within the state only) fares by 10 per cent. They are being squeezde by increased operating costs, say the companies.

Fred Erisman of Longview has been named chairman of the new Texas Council on Administration of Justice. Council's purpose is to work with other groups in curbing crime and delinquency.

Maco Stewart of Galveston, former assistant attorney general, was elected new president of the liberal-dominated Young Democrats Club at its Austin meeting. Young Democrats officially criticized recent legislative action designed 'to illegally circumvent the U. S. constitution as interpreted by the Supreme Court."

Whatever they think of candidates, some half-million Texas citizens won't be able to do much about it at election time next summer. State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert reported that paid poll taxes and exemptions dropped from 2,410,188 to 2,055,318 this year.

State Department of Health is urging the establishment of more poison information centers over Texas. Four Texas cities—Austin, Galveston, Houston and Fort Worth—now have such centers able to give immediate and sometimes life saving information on what antidote to use for what poison.

The linotype machine was first put into practical use by the New York Tribune in 1886.

HAD HIS ADVANTAGE.

A salesman, tired of his job, gave it up and became a policeman. Several months later a friend asked him, "Do you like being a policeman?"

"Well," he reflected, "the pay isn't too high and the hours are long, but the part I really like is that the customer is always wrong."

Junior High School Seventh Graders Participate in Unique Book Club Plan

Seventh graders in the classes of Mrs. E. N. Jenkins in Hamlin Junior High School have had the opportunity this year to become part of a unique plan called the Teen-Age Book Club.

This Teen-Age Book Club is a book club similar to adult book clubs which makes available to students a wide range of good books at low cost. Members may choose each month from 16 of the best pocket size 25-cent and 35-cent books issued by leading publishers. There are no dues or membership fees. A member may order as many or as few books as he wishes. No specific number is required.

The TAB national selection committee, a board of five distinguished educators and librarians, select the titles for their quality and appeal to teen-agers. To suit the varied tastes, each month's selections include fiction, adventure, biography, sports, humor, science fiction, animal stories, mysteries and other reading enjoyed by young people. Many of the selections are published by the Teen-Age Book Club exclusively for its members and are not available through usual retail outlets.

An attractive feature of the club is the free dviidend plan. For every four books purchased members may choose one book as a free dividend. These dvdiends are distributed at the end of each semester and are selected from a special list of popular titles.

Once a club is organized, each member receives a free personal copy of the monthly four-page TAB News. In this illustrated publicaiton are reviews of new book selections, comments by and about favorite authors, and a number of other features designed to stimulate reading interest.

The main advantage of the club is that it enables teen-agers to build their own libraries of good books at a price within reach of the average student's pocketbook.

During the current school year 47 students have ordered books from the club. Total books ordered amount to 456. This means that 105 free dividends were distributed, in addition to the 456 purchased, making a total of 561 books brought into homes by this means.

Mark Smith, most avid reader in the group, bought 36 books and received nine dividends, for a total of 45 books. Tommy Shelburne and Thelma McClung, eighth graders, also purchased over 30 books apiece.

Most popular books among the students proved to be humorous, with biography and animal stories coming in as next favorites. Science fiction, sport and mysteries also were widely read.

Nazarenes Looking To Church Founding Event at Pilot Point

The eyes of Texas—and the minds and hearts of many devout Christians around the world—will be upon Pilot Point, a small village in the north central part of the Lnoe Star State next October 13, according to Rev. Bill Hanna, pastor of the Hamlin Church of the Nazarene.

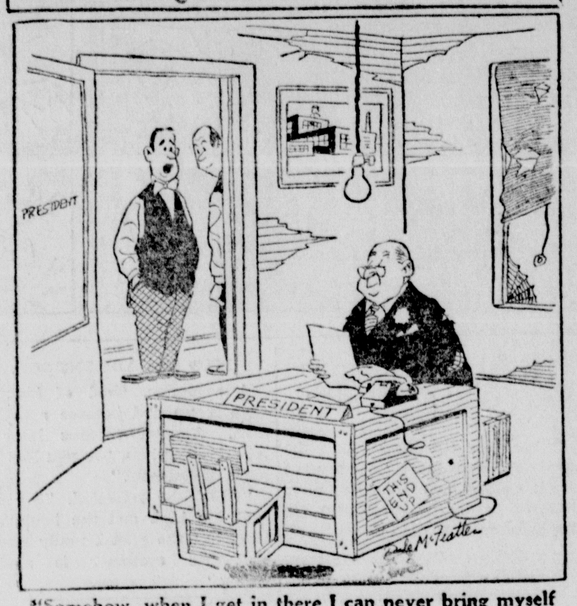

On that date, a monument of pink Texas granite will be unveiled there, marking the exact place where the Church of the Nazarene, an international Protestant denomination, was founded 50 years ago. The ceremony will take place with an appropriate program before a throng of visitors that will double the usual village population.

Among the notables invited will be the governor of Texas. The Church of the Nazarene is believed to be the only religious denomination that claims Texas as a birthplace.

On the natal day 50 years ago delegates from 228 churches with 10,414 members in the East, West and South voted unanimously to unite. Their great common bond was agreement in the Wesleyan doctrine of entire sanctification, or heart purity. The Nazarene Church now has 4,500 churches with nearly 300,000 members.

Plans for the special Pilot Point program are being completed by a committee of two Texans and two church leaders from Kansas City. They are John Stockton and S. T. Ludwig of Kansas City, Geron Roberts of Pilot Point and Orville Jenkins of Lubbock.

"Somehow, when I get in there I can never bring myself to ask for a raise!"

Senator Johnson Says Treatment of Nixons in Latin America No Surprise

The American people are deeply shooked by the treatment accorded the vice president and his wife in Latin America, notes U. S. Senator Lyndon B. Johnson in his weekly news release to The Herald from Washington. He continues: The shock is understandable. The vice president is the symbol and the representative of our government.

As one who has been intimately acquainted—on terms of mutual respect and friendship—with Latin Americans for many years, I am confident that this feeling of shock is shared by our neighbors to the South. The fact is that those who atatcked our vice president are the enemies of Latin America just as they are the enemies of the United States.

We are faced by a common peril—an unthinking force dirceted by coldly calculating men in Moscow and Peiping.

An enemy of civilization is loose in the world. That enemy has the intelligence and the skill to capitalize on our mistakes and our weaknesses and will do so at every opportunity.

The demonstrations against our vice president are, in part, manifestations of temporary conditions that are being deliberately exploited by the enemies of freedom. We must recognize those temporary conditions, whatever they may be. We must not close our eyes to thir implications.

The bad economic conditions in Latin America are a dirct reflection of the business slump in this country—a situation that has cut down purchasing power. As Allen Dulles has said, this recession is a luxury that our government cannot afford. To an uncomfortable extent, we are paying the penalty for procrastination at home as well as abroad.

We are living in an age of "brush fires" which can spring up at many unexpected points in the world. We must be prepared to fight those fires effectively—and we must recognize that such fires are not put out solely by guns and troops.

There are times in which all Americans must stand together. These are times also in which civilized men throughout the world must stand together — against book-burning, against ugly mobs, against tyranny.

Unity of freedom loving men and women is vitally necessary. But there is more involved here than a demonstration of unity. Along with unity there is need for a prudent, thoughtful, deep reaching reappraisal of the position of the United States in the world.

It is an urgent need, one that all Americans, working together, must meet without dlay. I am confident we can meet it. I am confident we will meet it.

MIGHT NIGH IMPOSSIBLE.

Junior High Students Do Well in GVR Tests

Hamlin Junior High School students did very well on the Gray-Votaw-Rogers achievement tests given two weeks ago, according to Marvin Carlton, principal. The G-V-R achievement test is a national standard test and is not constructed to specifically test Texas students, the principal has pointed out.

Students in the sixth, seventh and eighth grades had 132 pupils at or above the national norm and 94 below the national norm. The sixth grade led the classes with 59 above and 26 below. The seventh grade had 32 above and 35 below. The eighth grade had 41 above and 33 below.

April Milk Price Set At $5.70 a 100 in Area

During April, 1958, there were 570 milk producers in the Central West Texas market compared to 581 during March and 668 during April, 1957. Although there were 98 fewer producers on the market during April this year than during April, 1957, producer receipts were 3.15 per cent greater during April, 1958, than during the same month a year earlier. The average daily delivery per producer during April this year was 842 pounds compared to 783 pounds during March and 697 pounds during April, 1957.

Uniform base price of $5.70 per 100 pounds was paid to producers of the area, including a number in the territory south of Hamlin.

PLYMOUTH SAVES YOU MONEY ON GAS...
MOBILGAS ECONOMY RUN VICTORY PROVES IT!

New "Fuel-Saver" Choke that helped clinch title is standard equipment on all Plymouth V-8s

Pound for pound, Plymouth uses less gasoline than either of the "other two" cars in the low-price "3"! This was proved beyond doubt when a 1958 Plymouth V-8 was officially declared winner of the low-price car competition in the 1958 Mobilgas Economy Run. Plymouth's competitors also entered cars with 6-cylinder engines (supposedly more economical) but Plymouth beat every car in its class—V-8s and 6s alike!

This title-winning Plymouth is exactly the same Belvedere V-8 with TorqueFlite Automatic Transmission that you can buy right off your Plymouth dealer's floor.

These tests prove that every Plymouth has built-in economy features not found in the "other two". For instance—one of the most important factors in Plymouth's smashing win is the new "Fuel-Saver" Choke that you get at no extra cost on all Plymouth V-8s. This ingenious device employs a triple-stage vacuum piston and a new thermostatic element to reduce the amount of fuel you use in warming up the engine. So it can save you even more on short-distance drives—the kind most people make.

Among the many other savings Plymouth gives you is the $140 you save on standard-equipment Torsion-Aire Ride. The "other two" charge up to that much extra for their best suspension systems.

So if you are dollar-conscious, better hustle over and talk terms and trade with your Plymouth dealer. He wants your business, and he'll go all out to get it!

Agriculture Not Dwindling Away But It Needs Revamping, Says U. S. Senator

Is agriculture dwindling away to a position of relative unimportance? asks U. S. Senator Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas in his weekly news letter from Washington to The Herald. Then he answers his query with a positive "No." His release continues:

Industry is growing in our state and more than half of our people are now concentrated in urban areas. These are facts—but they point not to a decline in farming but to a change in farming.

The number of workers on Texas farms and ranches has been going down for years—from 34 per cent of the population in 1940 to 13 per cent now. Technological progress has made possible greater farm productivity with fewer workers. But that same progress has resulted in great increases in the number of persons supplying farmers and processing and distributing farm products.

The total number of Texans dependent on agriculture for their living has declined only from 45 to 40 per cent since 1940, according to Texas A. & M. College agronomists.

Our economic welfare still has its root sin the good earth. Farm has changed, but agriculture is still highly basic to the economy of Texas.

Every Texan thus has a stake in governmental policies that affect agriculture.

That is why I am deeply concerned when the president vetoed a bill designed only to insure that farm prices will not be lower this year than they were last year.

That is why a sound world trade program means so much to Texas, for it provides a two-way street along which we can move a substantial part of our farm production.

That is why Texans are concerned with the economic improvement of impoverished nations, enabling those nations to buy more of our food and fiber and more of the products manufactured from them.

That is why water for agriculture is as important as water for industry — why agricultural research is no less vital than industrial research.

What's good for Texas agriculture is good for every Texan, no matter where his pay check comes from.

The fundamental farm problem is simply to get a fair share of the national income for farmers. They are not getting it now.

In 14 states the principal income is from industry. The average per captia personal income in those states in 1956 was approximately $2,244.

In the remaining 34 states, including Texas, the principal income is from agricultural production and other raw materials. The average per capita personal income in those states in 1956 was approximately $1,574.

That is a difference of $670 per capita.

The difference is too great.

Foursquare Group Slates Three-Day Rally at Pentecost

In keeping with the old Jewish law of the Feast of Pentecost, and the earliest Christian Church which commemorated the day of Pentecost, there will be a three-day rally in the Hamlin Foursquare Church. It will begin on Friday night, May 23, and continue through Sunday evening. There will be a guest speaker, Rev. Tommy McCelland, a district officer from Abilene.

On Friday evening at 7:30 Rev. McCelland will be singing with his family and then speaking on that opening night.

Saturday evening, Rev. John Holland, pastor of the church, will be speaking in answer to the inquiries of this day. He will answer these questions: What is then Holy Spirit? What is the baptism of the Holy Spirit? Is s for today? All of this will be under the topic of "Why I Believe in the Baptism of the Holy Spirit."

Rev. Holland will be speaking Sunday morning in keeping with the theme of the day of Pentecost. There will also be special music.

To close the three days of services Rev. McCelland will bring the closing address. A warm welcome awaits all of the friends and members of the church. "Come and enjoy worship each evening at 7:30," says Rev. Holland.

Congressman Burleson Says Running To Washington Will Not Solve All Ills

On the night of April 10, Ben Wooten, president of the First National Bank of Dallas, made a speech in Abilene, notes Congressman Omar Burleson in his weekly news letter from Washington. He continues: In that speech he inferentially chided the business interests of the country for not doing a better job of selling to cure and prevent a recession. It seems Wooten is critical of everyone running to Washington looking for governmental remedies for all the ills which beset us.

There are hundreds of pressure groups in the United States organized for the purpose of gaining favors from government. Many of them force government into improper activities. It is the conclusion of some very intelligent people that this practice has brought about a condition which has destroyed a lot of individual initiative, which otherwise could contribute to the economic life of the country.

Many clubs and organizations act very much like the government. When something is needed they figure the best thing to do is appoint a committee to look into the matter. In government we find instances of a committee or commission appointing another committee or commission, and finally with authority complete diffused, no one knows what anybody else is supposed to do. Of course, the result of such a situation is that nothing is done.

Back to Wooten's speech: I think he disproved what a farmer once gave as his reason for success. This well-to-do farmer (back in the days when there were well-to-do farmers) said that he attributed his success to staying away from mean horses, hay balers and bankers. But Wooten recommended in his talk that it is the business of business to do more for itself. His point has been proved lately by one large manufacturer of radio and television sets. Price cuts were made by this company as an experiment. Reports indicate amazing results. The company had such an increase in demand it had to hire more workers to fill its orders.

As long as industry and business look to Washington to cure all the economic ills, there are plenty of those in Washington who are ready and willing to try it.

This time last year economy was the watchword. There is not very much being said about it at this time. The business community of our country is seemingly willing for the pumps to be primed. The primer and the grease for the pump will be bought on credit, but not the usual kind. When an individual buys on the installment plan he pays in the future for whatever he has purchased at present prices. The pump priming of government will be paid for in the future at a higher price than that now prevailing, even in these inflationary times. This will come about because the "priming" will result in deficit financing, and deficit financing means mroe inflation. More inflation means higher prices — it means the government is mortgaging the future of its taxpayers.

Slower Driving Is Paying Off in Less Fatal Accidents

A slower driving Texas public during 1957 produced the lowest death rate in the state's history, the Texas Department of Public Safety reported this week in a release to The Herald.

The encouraging information released by Colonel Homer Garrison Jr., DPS director, was part of the department's annual statistical report on traffic accidents, as compiled by N. K. Woorner, department statistician. The new booklet is entitled "1.6 MPH."

Garrison said the average speed of all vehicles on Texas rural highways in 1957 was 1.6 miles per hour less than in 1956. Most of this speed reduction was in the 60-mph-and-above category.

"This slower average speed is a significant factor in holding the state's death rate to 6.0—six motorcides per each 100,000,000 miles of driving. More directly, we believe this speed reduction during 1957 has prevented the death of 111 persons who would have died had the 1956 rate of 6.5 continued."

The state police director pointed out that speed reduction alone is not the total answer to traffic accident prevention, but that severity of accidents increases with speed.

"All regulations governing the movement of motor vehicles are designed to prevent traffic accidents. But it is only when all drivers comply with all traffic regulations will accidents be prevented.

"The public's response to our 1957 traffic safety campaign is very encouraging; we ask for the continued cooperation of Texas motorists in making 1958 an even safer year for driving."

Tourist Industry Worth Millions of Dollars to Texas and State Businesses

Visitors to Texas spent more money and stayed around longer spending it in 1957 than during any previous year, so indicates the tourist industry report released by the Texas Highway Department this week.

D. C. Greer, state highway engineer, pointed to statistics in the report which show that expenditures per person per day jumped to $8.22 in 1957 as compared to $7.71 in 1956. "Moreover, the typical tourist extended his visit to 6.3 days in 1957 as against 5.9 days the previous year," Greer observed.

The report defined tourist dollars as new money earned elsewhere and brought into the community where it is then spent and respent into the local business cycle. Specifically, tourist dollars to the tune of $551,000,000 made music in Texas cash registers and jingled in the pockets of Texas jeans last year. This whopping amount was cleared from tourists traveling by automobile. Greer pointed out that this was an impressive increase over 1956's intake of $379,000,000. The report says that approximately $98,900,000 was spent also in 1957 by tourists visiting Texas by air, rail, bus and ship.

Largest part of the tourist dollar in Texas is spent for food, lodging and car upkeep. To serve those basic needs, the report estimates, 25,320 established businesses with 102,265 employees are required. The final figures are increased many times when the retail stores, amusement spots, gift shops and other places where the remainder of the tourist dollar is spent are considered.

Tourists themselves provide the records from which the highway department obtains the statistics in the annual tourist industry report, Greer remarked. Survey cards, to be completed and mailed back after the visit in Texas, are given tourists stopping at the department's seven highway travel information bureaus located on major highways entering the state. Last year the bureaus played host to 174,000 such out-of-state guests.

Estimated 60 from County Asked to Take Draft Exams

State draft boards are being asked to forward 3,410 men for preinduction physical and mental examinations in June, Col. Morris S. Schwartz, state selective service director, said Friday. An estimated 60 from Jones County are to be included in the call.

At the same time, the 137 draft boards over the state are being requested to send 519 men in June for induction into the Army. The county will furnish an estimated three of this number.

The quota for examinations in June drops from a figure of 4,247 in May. The induction figure of 519 compares with 677 for May.

Draft examination figures took a jump upward in April, when more than 4,000 men were ordered examined. From January through March, the calls for this purpose ran about 2,000 a month.

Quotas for examination in 1957 ran as high as 3,000 a month, but in the last quarter of 1957 only 43 men were examined.

None younger can be called up unless they are volunteers, delinquents or some who fail to participate satisfactorily as reservists or members of the National Guard.

The June induction call of 519 is the state's share of a national quota of 10,000 men, all for the Army. Most of those inducted will be 22 years old.

Eight Gilts Go to County 4-H Club Group Saturday

Eight registered Duroc gilts were awarded to Jones County 4-H Club members last Friday at Anson under the supervision of Kirby Clayton, county agent.

Those receiving the gilts include Richie Cox of Anson, Mike Barbee of Noodle, Kathleen Lollar of Anson, Sandra Carter of Anson, Billy DeBusk of Anson, Terry Touchstone of Noodle, Billy Fillmon of Avoca and William Teague of Anson.

A registered Duroc boar, purchased from Abilene Christian College, will be awarded to a 4-H Club member when judging of the essays for the boar has been completed.

To qualify for one of these registered gilts, interested club members are required to submit to the county agent an essay entitled "The Value of Producing Hogs as a Source of Cash Income on Our Farm," and winners are selected from those submitting essays.

In this program, sponsored by Sears Roebuck Foundation, the club member agrees to feed, care for and breed sow pigs under the direction and supervision of the county agent. They also agree to return the choicest gilt with certificate of registration from their first litter to the county agent for distribution to other club members in the county the following year.

The gilts and boar are exhibited by the club member in the county and district livestock shows and the store area show, and prizes are awarded to the winners by Sears Roebuck Foundation. Also awards are given for the heaviest litter at 56 days of age in each store area.

NFLA Offices May Be Combined in Economy Move

As an economy move, and in cooperation with a state-wide program being sponsored by the Federal Land Bank of Houston, the directors of the Jones County National Farm Loan Asociation at Anson, the Haskell County National Farm Loan Association in Haskell, and the Baylor-Knox National Farm Loan Association at Seymour have voted to approve consolidation.

Notices calling a special stockholders' meeting of the Jones County National Farm Loan Association on June 4 to act upon this proposal have been mailed to each stockholder-member of the association, according to Joe Breed, secretary-treasurer. That meeting is to be held in the county court room of the courthouse at 2:00 p. m. Wednesday, June 4. Breed urges a large attendance of the stockholder-members so that they may have the proposal explained to them in detail.

Under the plan as outlined by the Federal Land Bank of Houston, the central office of the consolidated association will be located at Haskell. However, the Federal Land Bank plans that the consolidated association will maintain an outpost office in Anson at the association's present location. Breed indicated that under the proposed plan of operation there would be little variation from the present procedure and arrangements as for as land owners of Jones County are concerned. They will continue to make their contacts through the Anson office in regard to new loans and also in regard to the servicing of their already outstanding loans.

Simple Mistakes in Arithmetic Cause of Much Tax Confusion

Some of us know that the groundhog cannot predict the weather. But there are other folks who figure that the TV weatherman makes more mistakes than the groundhog does. When it comes to filing income tax returns lots of folks see their shadow and run for cover, says Tax Man Sam in a release to The Herald.

Somehow or other taxpayers fail to add and subtract right on their tax returns. Uncle Sam says more people add in favor of themselves instead of the government. However, a lot of people cost themselves instead of the government by failing to add or subtract right.

The government has lots of adding machines and they check the tax return carefully and try to correct the errors. It pays to check your addition on your tax return instead of completing a correspondence course with the income tax folks.

Nothing is cheap which is superfluous, for what one does not need is dear at a penny.— Plutarch.

Dr. Travis A. White, Commencement Speaker at HHS, Has Wide Background

Dr. Travis A. White, president of Midwestern University at Wichita Falls, has an interesting background. He will be the speaker for commencement exercises of Hamlin High School Thursday evening. This will be his first public appearance in Hamlin.

Dr. White came to the Midwestern presidency from Atlantic Christian College of Wilson, North Carolina.

He was born in Hammond, Louisiana in 1909 and graduated from Byrd High School of Shreveport, Louisiana, in 1926. He attended Texas Christian University in Fort Worth, receiving an AB degree in 1932 and a BD degree in 1934, with further graduate training at the University of Chicago in 1935 and Union Theological Seminary in 1941. Texas Christian University conferred on him the honorary degree of DD in 1949.

Prior to his entrance into the field of higher education, Dr. White was a successful minister of the Christian Church, with which he now maintains his ministerial standing. He is active in the national and state work of his church and participates in many inter-denominational activities on a community and state level.

Dr. White is an active participant in civic and community life. He is a member of the downtown Rotary Club, is a thirty-second degree Mason. He is a member of the Salvation Army advisory board, the board of directors of the Boys Club, and the board of directors of the United Fund.

Dr. White has completed a world tour of more than 35,000 miles, visiting many nations of the world, the mission work of his church and the Holy Land.

He has through the years had a keen interest in higher education. He served for four years as a member of the board of trustees of Phillips University and was active in the creation and development of the Texas Tech Christian Foundation at Lubbock. He has served as a member of teams for university Christian missions and as a speaker at student retreats. He is serving now as a member of the board of higher education of Christian Churches and state chairman of the campus Christian life committee of Christian Churches.

Dr. White has been a believer in and leader of young people through the years. It is his belief that a well rounded university education should help the student achieve personal stability, adequate social adjustment, vocational competence and spiritual awareness. Under his leadership Midwestern University is seeking to meet the educational needs of the citizenship of North Texas and Southern Oklahoma. The university not only mantains a strong under-graduate school but a graduate program offering the masters degree, an evening college designed for those who desire to continue their college training but who must work during the day time. A rapidly growing service of the university is its program of adult education for those who do not want college credit but who want training in many fields of endeavor. The new school of petroleum and physical sciences was established in September, 1957, and the newly created school of business will begin in September, 1958. Athletes at DePriest Colored School Make Good Record During Past Year

Coach Roosevelt Jones of DePriest Colored School in Hamlin declares his athletes have had a fairly successful season in all sports.

Albert Douglas Jr. won the boys' tennis singles event in the district meet to represent DePriest School at the state meet. He also teamed with William H. Brown to gain runner-up honors in the district boys' doubles event.

This marks the second consecutive year that a DePriest player has participated in the state meet at Prairie View A. & M. College.

John H. Chase was one of the three trackmen who participated at the district meet and won a first place. This qualified him to run in the state meet.

All of DePreist's trackmen placed in their respective events. Speedy Baldwin placed second in the 880-yard run, and Jesse Gilbert placed fourth in the 440-yard dash. The district meet was held at Colorado City.

The Steers played a very rugged scheduled during the basketball season. They were stubborn, especially on their home court where most of their victories were won. The Steers were knocked out of the district tournament, held at Big Spring, by Crane. Crane won the district title and the state title for Class B schools.

Captain Speedy Baldwin enjoyed a great season, and again won the DePriest best boys' athlete award. Jesse Gilbert, John Chase, Fred Thompson, William Brown and Albert Douglas are the other basketball lettermen for the 1958 season. Other members of the team were William Covington, Joseph Anderson, Gene Smith and Virgil Austin.

Next season will find the Steers without the services of Speedy Baldwin and Albert Douglas, who were starters this season. More prospects than before will be in store for Coach Jones, who has been eyeing new talent in the eighth grade in the persons of Robert Jones, Curtis Clay, Hardy Nabors, J. Pinkin and several others.

Coach Jones has chosen Jesse Gilbert to be captain for the cagers for the coming 1959 season.

Obeying Traffic Laws Is Practical Business Matter

"Traffic laws are on your side—and you should know and obey them!"

J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association, made this statement this week as he urged the public to support the traffic laws program currently being conducted by TSA and the National Safety Council as a part of the nation-wide back-the-attack on traffic accidents campaign.

"You can't afford to be careless or thoughtless in traffic," Musick said. "Your life depends on your behind-the-wheel behavior."

The safety expert urged the citizens of Texas to obey traffic laws to the letter. He said that some drivers knowingly play dangerous angles and short cuts—they jump red lights at intersections, never really stop at stop signs and overdrive the speed limits. He said that these drivers too often end up paying a high price for their lawlessness—a serious injury and sometimes death.

"If every driver would realize that the traffic laws are on his side, he wouldn't think of disregarding them," Music said. "When you drive faster than the speed limit, make wrong turns, go through red lights or stop signs or pass improperly, you run these risks—traffic fines, costly car repairs, towing costs, medical bills, lost wages, damage suits, lawyer's fees and loss of your driver's license.

Rev. Calvin Bailey Is Baccalaureate Speaker Sunday

"The Life That Is Able to Stand" was the topic of Rev. Calvin Bailey, pastor of the First Baptist Church, when he spoke Sunday evening at the baccalaureate services for graduates of Hamlin High School Sunday evening.

"Into every life there will come the time of testing," declared the preacher. "The life that stands (1) Has a firm faith in God; (2) is loyal to the program of his church; (3) is filled with moral uprightness; and (4) is intimately related to Jesus Christ."

The baccalaureate services, first of the commencement rites for the 197-58 term of school at Hamlin High School, were conducted Sunday evening in the high school auditorium, which was practically filled with relatives and friends of the graduating class.

Rev. Bailey was used as speaker for the occasion in continuation of the plan of using local ministers for baccalaureate services in rotation, a plan started several years ago.

The program began with processional by Ginger Rabjohn, HHS junior. Members of the graduating class marched in and took their seats in the section reserved for them in the front center of the auditorium.

Rev. Henry C. Adair, pastor of Faith Methodist Church, offered the invocation. Two vocal solo numbers, "You'll Never Walk Alone" and "The Lord's Prayer," were rendered by Danny McCurdy. Following announcements by Superintendent of Schools C. F. Caffey, scripture was read by Rev. W. [illegible], pastor of the Church of the Nazarene.

After Rev. Bailey's sermon, the benediction was offered by Rev. Woodrow McHugh, pastor of the North Central Avenue Baptist Church. Ginger Rabjohn played the recessional as the seniors filed back out of the auditorium.

Despite their name, chicken snakes live principally on rats and mice.

More Than 75 Hamlin High Students Take Merit Schloaship Qalifying Tests

More than 75 students at Hamlin High School took the national merit scholarship qualifying tests, B. V. Newberry, principal, announced last week. The test was administered in the high school recently.

An estimated $5,000,000 in merit scholarships and other awards are at stake in hte national competition, now beginning its fourth year. Some $12,000,000 in merit scholarships have been awarded in the first three years of the program.

Merit scholarships are provided by some 80 corporations, foundations, professional societies and individuals, as well as by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation itself, which conducts the competition.

The national merit scholarship qualifying test is a three-hour measure of educational growth and aptitude. Emphasis is on broad intellectual skills, and on understanding and ability to use what has been learned, rather than on sheer knowledge of facts.

A group of 10,000 students—composed of the highest scorers in each state—will advance to the semi-finals when the results are reported to all participating schools next fall. Semi-finalists will then take a second examination. Those who repeat their high performance on the second examination will become finalists in the program and will indicate their choice of college and course of study. Further evaluation of their grades, citizenship and extra curricular achievements will follow, and the winners will be announced in the spring of 1959.

The test results will be available at the beginning of the senior year, in time for use by seniors and their class advisors. The scores may also be used in many high schools to help students make decisions about college and the most appropriate courses to major in. Many students throughout the country who do not expect to win registered for the test in order to learn more about their individual strengths and weaknesses.

Dr. John M. Stalmaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, recently cautioned that there are many reasons why test results cannot be used to evaluate school performance. The distribution of the population throughout the state, the size of the school, the native intelligence of its ton students, the percentage of students taking the test, the nature of the community where the school is located, the purpose of the school, and many other factors having nothing to do with the total effectiveness of the school can influence its number of finalists.

The test results will, however, give the students as individuals to compare their scores with other students across the nation.

The test has been constructed by Science Research Associates of Chicago, and will also be scored and reported by the testing agency.

Each merit scholarship carries a stipend based on the need of each individual winner, and is renewable annually without further competitive examination. The average stipend in past years has been $650 per year. The minimum award in the 1958-59 program will be $100 a year and a maximum will be $1,500 a year.

Names of all program finalists will be sent to colleges and universities throughout the country. In this way many non-winning finalists are helped in winning scholarships awardsd directly by colleges and other organizations.

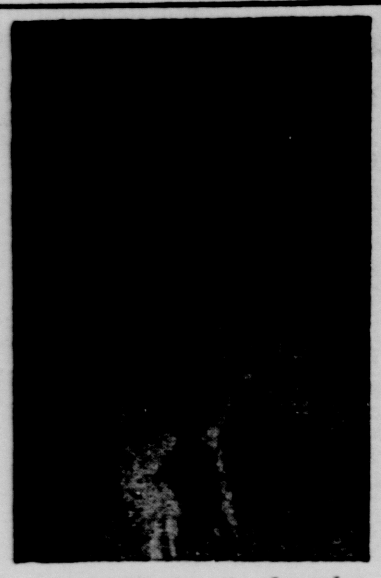

About 1,000 merit scholars, winners of the 1957-58 competition, were named May 1. They are winners in the third merit program which began last October.

The National Merit Scholarship Corporation directs the annual competition. It was founded in 1955, and grants of $20,000,000 by the Ford Foundation and $500,000 by the Carnegie Corporation of New York.

Easy-to-Get Jobs For Grads May Be Past, Says Babson

The big paying, easy-to-get first job out of college is something we shall see less of this year, declares Roger W. Babson, leading economist of the country, and regular writer for The Herald. He continues with these comments:

Roger W. Babson

Company recruitment officers are saying that "this year for the first time in a long while we shall find plenty of June graduates around at prices we want to pay."

Babson studies of business activity have for some months now revealed a mild softening in both employment and payrolls. The cause of this slowdown in the cycle can be attributed to a number of things; among these are rising productivity through technological advances, automation and declines in government spending.

The reason I am writing this article now instead of in the spring is to try to make both young people and their parents aware of this changed condition. If a college education teaches nothing else, it should make individuals aware that survival of the fittest is a law of nature not likely to be repealed in a hurry by any Congress, Soviet or college placement officer!

You may be surprsied to know that there are a number of last June's graduates who have not yet been able to find full time employment of the kind they want. I learned from one large eastern university recently that better than 30 per cent of its last June graduates had failed to find employment to their liking by Labor Day. Some are still working at part time jobs; some have gone back to college for graduate work. While this figure may be somewhat atypical, it does, nevertheless, point up a trend.

Did you know, too, that a fair sprinkling of last June's graduates who did get jobs have already been "excessed" by their employers? This word "excess" is a lovely new personnel word which means "you are a nice enough individual; you have done well on the job; we would like to have you around, but we just don't need you any more." In short, he has been fired!

One well known college placement officer has stated that he expects the number of campus visits by companies this year to be cut by 50 per cent. I cannot agree with this; but, I do say there will be some shrinkage.

If, therefore, you expect to graduate from school or college this year, and want a job, start hunting now. Include these things in your preparation: (1) Make an appraisal of yourself. Know your vocational interests, strengths and weaknesses. (2) Find out what kinds of jobs can best use your abilities, education and experience: working with people, with numbers or with materials and things? (3) Investigate your college library to find out what companies offer what kinds of jobs. (4) Go to a good financial source book and check specific companies for growth potential and product diversification.

(5) Have a general knowledge before you go into the interview of each company as well as of the industry it represents. (6) Be able to tell a prospective employer in a general way why you are interested in his particular industry and his company. (7) Set up a contact schedule for yourself, and send a resume a day to companies you think you would like to work for, asking for the privilege of an interview. (8) When interview time comes, be able to talk intelligently about yourself, indicating again, in a general way, the kinds of things you think you might be able to do on the job. (9) Send a follow-up letter after the interview.

Sure, this is a lot of work, and it takes a good deal of time! But the person who fails to take minimal steps of this sort is mentally lazy. Time spent now in getting ready for interviews is far better employed than time wasted in interviews from which you will obviously be "washed out" because of your lack of preparation. It is also far better than time spent later on a job for which you have neither the interest nor the aptitudes.

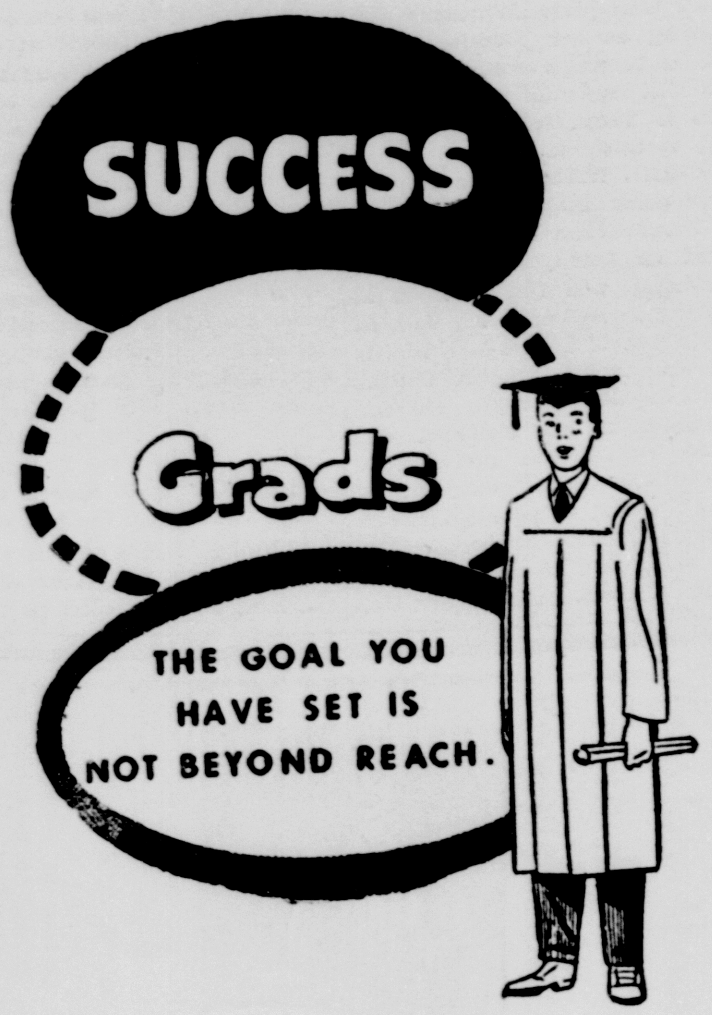

TEACHER'S IN A DREAM—Annanolle Hardt, pert young Austin school teacher who calls Alice her home, does some day dreaming while preparing for a five-week trip to Russia to see how the Soviets teach their children. Miss Hardt, a second grade teacher, will be one of a 40-member band sailing June 30 from Quebec as the first contingent of U. S. students to take part in a new cultural exchange agreement with the USSR. A 20-member Russian delegation will visit the United States at the same time.

Colored slides of the recent trip to New Orleans, Louisiana, and return made by 33 members of the Hamlin High School senior class and six adults were shown as the program feature of the Tuesday noon luncheon meeting of Hamlin Lions Club at the oil mill guest house. B. V. Newberry, high school principal, one of the adults making the bus trip, provided the pictures he made of the trip.

Newberry gave some verbal highlights of the trip that carried the group by Fort Worth, Dallas, Shreveport and Baton Rouge to New Orleans. Visits to the Louisiana state capitol at Baton Rouge, stay in the Roosevelt Hotel, visits to famous sections of quaint old New Orleans, trip up the Mississippi River; return by way of Beaumont, Houston and Austin, completed the tour. At Houston the group stayed in the Shamrock Hotel, visited the San Jacinto monument and the Battleship Texas; at Austin, the graduates and sponsors visited the state capitol and other sights.

Visitor at Tuesday's luncheon was Aubrey Haught.

DIET DIFFERENCE.

Two lions escaped from the zoo in Washington, D. C., and didn't meet again for several weeks. One was fat, the other nothing but skin and bones. When they finally met, the emaciated one said:

"I've never seen you looking better. How in the world do you manage to be so well fed?"

Fat Lion—"I've been hiding in the Pentagon and eating a general every day. So far nobody's noticed it."

Being a column in which the publisher just "blows off the steam."

By Willard Jones

WE COMPLAIN sometimes about the hard time we are having. But we seldom realize that going up against difficulties makes us work harder for success. It's good for us, too.

An unknown poet expressed similar thoughts in a poem entitled "Good Timber" that makes good fodder for thought . . .

The tree that never had to fight
For sun and air and light
That stood out in he open plain,
And always got its share of rain,
Never became a forest king
But lived and died a scrubby thing.

The man who never had to toil,
Who never had to win his share
Of sun and sky and light and air,
Never became a manly man
But lived and died as he began.

Good timber does not grow in ease:
The stronger wind, the tougher trees.
The farther sky, the greater length;
The more the storm, the more the strength;
By sun and cold, by rain and snow.
In tree or man good timber grows.

Where thickest stands the forest growth
We find the patriarchs of both,
And they hold converse with the stars
Whose broken branches show the scars
Of many winds and much of strife:
This is the common law of life.

IT'S FUNNY, but it works! Take your house number and double it. Add five. Multiply by half a hundred, then add your age. Add the number of days in a year and subtract 615.

The last two figures will be your age: the others will be your house number.

REGULAR church attendance is good for all of us. It gives us inspiration for the coming week and calms the tattered nerves resulting from the trials and tribulations of the preceding week.

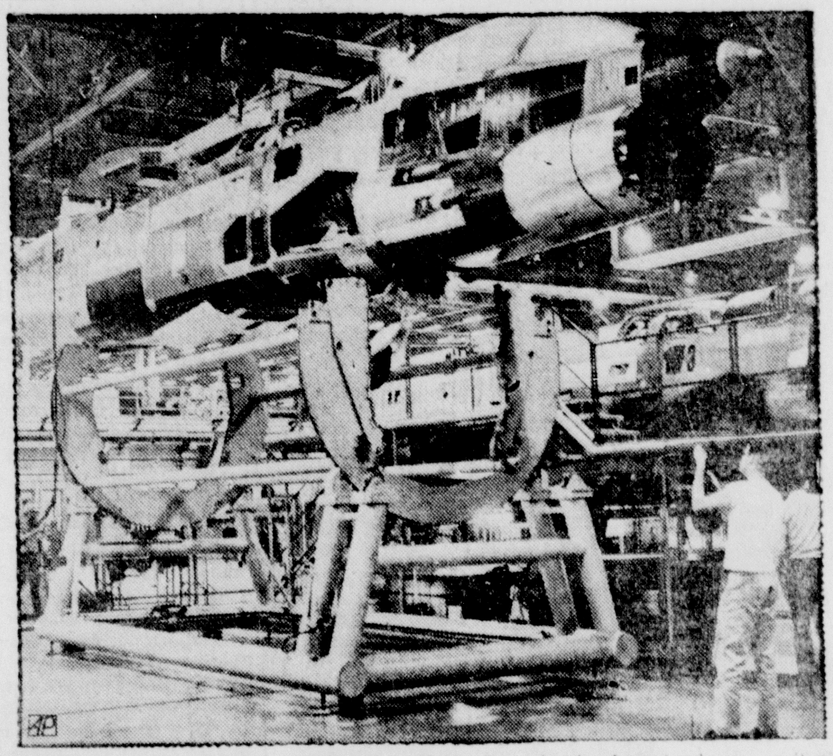

A little ode we picked up the other day has a bit of philosophy that may not be sound, but it is thought provoking . . .

Each time I pass a church,
I always pay a visit;
So when at last I'm carried in,
The Lord won't say, "Who is it?"

SOUTHWEST'S NEWEST and most ultra-modern theater is nearing completion in Fort Worth. This fabulous aluminum-domed structure will house Casa Manana Musicals, which will feature outstanding hits from Broadway. This first season will present for the first time in this area "theater-in-the-round" musicals including "Can-Can," "Carousel," "Pajama Game, "The Merry Widow" and "Call Me Madam." This entirely new concept of summer musicals for an actual feeling of participation on the part of the audience has been widely acclaimed in other parts of the nation. Many Hamlin area people are scheduled to see the musicals.

BCD to Lead Movement to Improve Airport Facilities

PLANE ROLLED TO SAVE LIVES—This F8U-1 Crusader fuselage is shown as it picked out of fixture on completion of roll-over to dislodge bits of metal. Contour pads with fire hose can be seen attached to the forward part of the rotation assembly. Open access doors on the fuselage let the pieces of metal fall out during rotation.

Hamlin airport, north of the city, is due to be improved soon under a program mapped by the avaition committee of the Board of Community Development, it was reported by Gene Prewit, committee chairman, when the board of directors of the civic organization met Monday evening in regular monthly business session at BCD offices in the city hall.

Following several requests from oil concerns having operations in the Hamlin territory for improved airplane landing facilities here, a committee was appointed at last month's directors' meeting to investigate the condition of the field and hangar and make a report to the BCD group.

Prewit said plans are to repair the small hangar at the field and improve the runways. Only the north-south runway has been usabl for several years. An east-west runway will be recleared and put into shape through cooperation of the BCD, city and county.

Trade Buck plan of trade stimulation, being promoted by the retail trade committee of the BCD, is being accepted wholeheartedly by merchants of Hamlin, according to Joe Hudspeth, chairman of the committee. A minimum of 30 participating merchants was set as a goal to get the plan underway. Total of 26 had signed up to use the plan through Monday, Hudspeth said, and he believed as many as 40 or 45 might be signed before the project is started.

The Trade Buck plan would be an exclusive Hamlin plan of issuing Trade Bucks with purchases similar to trading stamp programs except that the Trade Bucks may be redeemed in Hamlin by any merchandise, service or payment on account.

First Wheat for Section Expected Within Few Days

Finest grain crop in the history of the Hamlin territory now is approaching harvest, declare grain men and farmers with whom a Herald reporter has conferred recently.

A record crop of probably some 650,000 bushels of wheat in this region is predicted—provided no unforeseen catastrophes such as bad weather or a sudden invasion of insects comes within the next three or four weeks, when the crop shall have been moved to markets and elevators.

With an estimated 30,000 acres of wheat now practically made, a record yield of 20 to 25 bushels per acre is contemplated.

Several thousand acre of oats, barley and rye also is in the pink of condition in the region. Much of these other grains will be baled for feed.

Fine weather conditions have persisted in the territory most of the season. Good rains have come at opportune times for growth and development. Some high winds and hail have done minor damage in some areas, but practically all of the crop can be harvested, it is believed.

Frec B. Moore Jr. of the Moore Grain Company, said that market for wheat today is from $1.85 to $1.90 per bushel for No. 1 grain.

First wheat is expected to be brought to Hamlin within the next 10 days, Moore said.

Trade Buck Plan Going Over Good, Meeting Advised

32,396 Acres Put In Arceage Reserve

With the 1958 acreage reserve sign-up substantially completed, 727 Jones County farmers have agreed to place a total of 32,396 "allotment" acres of basic crops in the soil bank reserve this year. This compares with 756 farmers who reserved 30,308 acres under same program last year, according to officials of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee office in Anson.

By crops, the local acreage reserve sign-up is as follows: Wheat, 12,444 acres; and cotton, 19 952 acres.

If all applications on file are accepted and farmers comply with the program, they could earn a maximum of $619,[illegible]9.93 on the acreage offered in signed applications.

The acreage reserve is a soil bank program under which farmers agree to reduce their plantings below their acreage allotments of the basic crops as a means of reducing surpluses. Farmers earn payments on the land held out of production. The land must not be harvested or grazed, and must be kept free of noxious weeds and protected from erosion.

When the 1958 acreage reserve sign-up for spring crops began last January, the response in most parts of the country was so heavy that funds were exhausted and many farmers were placed on waiting lists. Later an additional authorization was provided and most farmers on waiting lists were able to complete their applications.

Harold Eades Named To Crosbyton VA Job

Harold Eades, vocational agriculture teacher in Hamlin High School for the past nine years, was named VA teacher at Crosbyton High School last week-end, according to word from the Crosbyton school board.

Eades, who was not reelected for the coming term here because of a decrease in number of students taking VA, was one of 41 applicants for the Crosbyton post. T. C. Blankinship is head of the Hamlin VA department, and he is being retained in that capacity.

Eades has been popular here among the boys and others, having helped to build one of the strongest Future Farmers of America chapters in the region. He will leave for his new position in late summer, he says.

West Lakes Catch Lots of Water from Week-End Rains

Good rains that to most of the Hamlin territory last week put lots of water in the two Hamlin West Lakes—the first running water that has come to the region in several months—according to Fank Cauble, lake keeper. The Lower Lake, biggest of the two, was practically full this week, he said. It is the first time the lake has been full since a year ago.

Only about five inches of water was caught in the big Hamlin South Lakes, according to Bill Rountree, city water superintendent. It was about two-thirds full Wednesday, registering 39 inches down from the spillway.

Last week's rains totaled 2.20 inches, bringing the month's total to 3.11 inches, according to the government gauge maintained by Rountree at the city pump station. By days, rain received this month is tabulated as follows: May 1, .11 of inch; May 2, .80; May 12, .61; May 13, 1.38; and May 18, .21.

The 3.11 inches for May brought the year's total rainfall at Hamlin to 8.52 inches. January had registered 1.12 inches, February 1.05, March 1.14 and April 2.10.

[illegible] LIST for the series of Pentecost Week services that will begin Sunday evening at the Hamlin Church of the Nazarene is Rev. Lonnie Voorhies of Eastland (above). The services will continue through Sunday evening, according to the pastor, Rev. Bill Hanna.

Entries Come in From Many Area Towns for Event

Hamlin Lakeview Golf Club's first annual invitational golf tournament, scheduled for Friday and Saturday at the beautiful course on the shores of Hamlin West Lake, is destined to have scores of golfers from Central West Texas entered in the scramble for for than $500 in golf equipment prizes, declared President Joe League Wednesday after checking the entries and prospects for the sporting event.

Golfers from Abilene, Stamford, Anson, Aspermont, Roton and Sweetwater had already sent in their entry fees, while others had expressed their intention of being on hand for qualifying rounds that will be worked up Friday.

The array of golf equipment prizes that have been posted for the tournament have been on display for several days at White Auto Store. They are to be moved to the club house at Lakeview Golf Club today (Thursday) declared B. O. Bell, who is in charge of the awards.

Qualifying rounds for determining places in the various flights of players in the tournament have been underway for several days. They will continue through Friday, according to Jim Howard King, in charge of the qualifying play.

Following the recent rains that have come to the area, the playing course of Lakeview Golf Club is in the best condition it has been in the course's history. The grass greens are beautifully matted with smooth turf, and the fairways are in good shape, too.

Entries will be accepted until the qualifying rounds are completed, it is announced. Entrance fee is $7.50.

Pentecost Week Services Slated by Nazarene Church

Pentecost Week services at the Church of the Nazarene, which began Thursday evening, will continue through Sunday evening, the pastor, Rev. Bill Hanna, announces. No services will be held this (Thursday) evening, however due to commencement activities Hamlin High School.

Emphasis of these services is on the doctrine of Christian holiness. The Church of the Nazarene subscribes to the Wesleyan or Methodistic interpretation of the belief.

Rev. Lonnie Vorohies of Eastland, is guest evangelist for this series. Rev. Voorhies has been a successful pastor and evangelist in both the Evangelical Methodist Church and the Church of the Nazarene.

Music is being provided by the local choir and musical groups. Services begin each evening at 7:30. Sunday School is at 9:45, with morning worship on Sunday at 10:45.

Wheat Growers Will Vote on Acreage Allotments and Parity Again June 20

Wheat growers of the Hamlin section, as well as the rest of the country will again vote on wheat marketing quotas on June 20.

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson has proclaimed marketing quotas on the 1959 crop of wheat; proclaimed a national wheat acreage allotment of 55,000,000 acres, the minimum permitted by law; set June 20 as the date for a grower referendum in which growers will approve or disapprove quotas and announced that the minimum national average support price for 1959 production will be determined before the June 20 referendum.

This is the sixth successive proclamation on marketing quotas and is required because the present wheat supply is 57 per cent above the marketing quota level. It is also the fifth consecutive year that the 55,000,000 acre minimum allotment has been applicable.

Texas' share of the national allotment for 1959 has been set at 4,099,094 acres. The 1957 allotment was 4,164,302 acres.

If marketing quotas are approved by wheat producers in the June 20 referendum, the national average support price available to eligible growers in the commercial area (Texas is in this area) will not be less than the minimum support to be announced later. Individual farm marketing quotas wil be the normal or actual production, whichever is larger, from the farm acreage allotment.

Growers in the commercial area who plant within their allotments will be eligible for price supports on their entire production. Those who exceed their farm allotments will be subject to marketing quota penalties if they have more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest or have not signed applications for exemption under the feed wheat provision permitting 30 acres or less to be used exclusively for feed on the farm.

If marketing quotas are disapproved, there will be no restrictions on wheat marketings. Acreage allotments will remain in effect as a condition of eligibility for price support at the 50 per cent of parity rate. In the referendum for 1958 crop wheat, 86.2 per cent of the farmers voting favored quotas.

Student Transfers to Other Districts Urged

Transfer of school students from one school district to another should be made by June 1, according to Superintendent of Hamlin Schools C. F. Cook, in order to have the scholastics counted for state aid in the receiving district for next schoo lterm.

Parents and guardians of students, knowing now that they will move to another district before school starts next fall, are urged to file the transfers with any local school or with the county school superintendent by June 1.

No Protests Heard to Santa Fe Application To Discontinue Trains

While regret is being expressed by people of the Hamlin territory that an old fixture of the area, the Santa Fe Railway passenger trains, may be discontinued soon because of loss in business, no serious objections to the proposed cessation of operations of the two-car train that has carried mail and express for more than 50 years to the region, have been been heard.

Santa Fe officials who were in Hamlin last week advised that application for discontinuing the trains would be filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission. Passenger business on the line from Sweetwater to Kansas City has dwindled to practically nothing, the Santa Fe officials declared. The mail contract, which has been the principal source of revenue for the line, will soon be cancelled by the government, and motor transports will be used for carrying the mails.

ABBEY MAUSOLEUM—The body of Andrew Jackson Houston, son of Sam Houston, lies in this once stately but now broken down mausoleum on a Virginia hill-top just across the Potomac River from the nation's capitol. The annual vacation Bible school of the Hamlin Assembly of God Church will begin Monday, May 26, and continue through the following Friday, announce officials of the church.

DO YOU REGULARLY ATTEND YOUR CHURCH?

Recently in his church's weekly bulletin a Hamlin pastor declared: I have read twice the article recently printed that only 31 per cent of all Texans attend church, and that only 17 per cent attend regularly. This is certainly one place where Texas cannot brag. We must strive to correct this, not for the sake of facts and figures, but for the sake of life and salvation."

Checking the figures of Sunday School and church attendance in Hamlin, it is revealed that less than 25 per cent of the people of the community report [illegible] of all the churches of the community. The average Sunday School attendance is around 1,100 per Sunday. Morning worship service attendance is slightly more than this number, while the evening church service attendance probably is less than 1,000.

The fact that probably half the people of the community profess to belong to some church, yet many seldom enter the churches, is a disturbing factor for ministers and others interested in the work of the churches.

Another great paradox that faces the entire United States, Texas and Hamlin as well: In 1957 our church membership soared past the 100,000,000 mark, a growth of three per cent; and one and one-half per cent increase upon the rate of population. Sunday School enrollment hit an all-time high of 40,000,000. More than 3,000 new congregations came into being. Eight million copies of the Bible were sold. It would appear that our nation is on its knees in worship.

On the other side of the ledger there is another story: Americans spent three times as much on liquor as they gave to their churches. The number of alcoholics, 5,000,000, crime at an all-time high, pornographic literature flooding news stands as never before, make it appear our nation has assumed a dual personality. On one side, clear evidence of interest in religion; on the other symptoms of a weak and immoral society.

Justice and Women

It is an accepted fact that juries tend to "go easy" on women, especially the pretty ones and the good actresses (and all women are actresses) in murder cases.

Not so long ago we read of a case where a woman had picked up a gun and, as she claimed, was taking it to her husband to ask him to kill her, when the gun went off and, instead, she shot and killed her husband.

A jury acquitted this woman, as juries have done so often in cases of this kind. The [illegible], who is dead, and who was not able to give his side of the story, remains dead. He is remembered as having been the stronger of the two and the sympathy in such a case has been bestowed upon the person who fired the shot that killed a veteran who had just returned from a year and a half overseas' duty.

There are many similar cases we have noticed in past years. If there is a scuffle for a gun, perhaps a gun obtained by the woman, and the gun goes off and the man is killed, the woman is quite often freed.

If, on the other hand, a man kills a woman, everyone raises his or her hands and says, "What a terrible thing that awful man did to the poor, helpless creature!"

Some of this partiality to women is a result of the fact that men outnumber women on juries. On many juries women are not represented at all.

In other countries except America, with few exceptions, the men wear the pants in the family and are actually the head of the household. In these countries women might be entitled to special consideration in the courts. However, in the United States, most men are men in name only and women, throughout all professions, take advantage of all their traditional special considerations, and have their cake and eat it, too.

Best Man I Ever Knew

There was a man sent from God whose name was Caddell. The floor beneath his pew is worn white. He never misses a service at his church, and he always occupies the same seat directly in front of the pulpit.

[illegible] and Baptist deacon, Caddell has earned the respect of his fellows. I'm not the [illegible] who calls him the best man I ever knew.

"I love my church," he is forever saying. During the depression Caddell mortgaged his home to keep the church building from going to a loan company.

"Let's get at it right away" is his favorite response when his church votes a new project. "Too old to waste time. Let me see this church win at least one more victory for Jesus before I go!"

His record will live forever. His secret? He loved Jesus.—W. E. Grindstaff.

Life Saving Answers

Do you know: (1) How to tell whether or not you are over-driving your headlights? (2) if it is safer to hit a fixed object or roll your car over at given speeds? (3) how to maintain control of your car when a tire blows out?

"Knowing the answer to questions such as these are reacting correctly when confronted by such situations could save your life," A. Ross Rommel, president of the Texas Safety Association, reminded motorists of this fact recently as he urged them to learn to drive defensively. He spoke in behalf of the defensive driving program which TSA is conducting throughout Texas.

Rommel explained that the defensive driver is one who drives in such a manner as to avoid accidents by expecting the unexpected.

"He realizes that, in addition to turning in a safe driving job himself, he also has a responsibility to make up for the shortcomings of others. Such an attitude comes naturally to persons accustomed to accepting their moral responsibilities in other areas of daily living. However, other motorists and pedestrians are not the only hazards that may confront the defensive driver," the TSA president warned. "He must also be alert to the dangers presented by the unexpected."

Other Papers Said It . . .

Soil Conservation District Completes Sixteenth Year with Accomplishments

The year 1957 was truly a year of mixed blessings and disappointments to the farmer and rancher in the district, declares the annual report of the California Creek Soil Conservation District, released las tweek-end by officials of the office at Stamford, headquarters of the district. The district embraces territory bounded by the Clear Fork of the Brazos River on the south and containing the northwest corner of Fisher County, the north two-thirds of Jones County, the south half of Haskell County, the northwest corner of Shackelford County and the southwest corner of Throckmorton County.

The California Creek Soil Conservation District has completed its sixteenth year since it received a certificate of organization.

The year 1957 has been a turbulent year. The long drouth was broken by excessive spring and fall rains which hampered the planting and harvesting of crops.

Sppervisors of the California Creek Soil Conservation District are as follows: Lambert W. Stenholm of Avoca, chairman; J. E. Nix of Anson, vice chairman; B. Kupatt of Sagerton, sceretary-treasurer; Brooke Early of Haskell and D. B. Sauls of Hamlin, members. Sauls replaced Revis Robertson of Hamlin last October.

In order to promote better understanding of the practices and results of conservation, the California Creek Soil Conservation District supervisors have attended many district, area and state meetings. To pass this information on to the district cooperators, regular news letters were sent to the cooperators and to many businessmen interested in the district program. Each week timely news releases were sent to six local newspaper for publication. The radio and TV have been another means of reaching not only the cooperators, but other farmers, ranchers and townspeople in the district. Also at several meetings slides were shown of conservation practices applied in the district.

In 1957 the district sponsored a grass and land judging contest. Ribbons were given to teams and individual winners. Pictures of the winning teams appeared in several of the district news letters.

The district has sponsored an essay contest for all the schools of the district. The local winners of the contest will be sent to the Fort Worth Press awards essay contest.

During the past year 64 new cooperators farming 19,910 acres of land have been added to the California Creek Soil Conservation District. There are 2,823 operating units in the district covering 720,679 acres of land.

The land owners in the district have made good use of the district owne dequipment the past year. Three heavy type shredders have been added to the district equipment. The large number of miles of terraces built and the acres of soil improving crops in this district attest to the fact that the farmer and rancher are becoming very soil conscious as well as water conscious.

Technicians of the Soil Conservation Service have been of great service to the district. Besides doing the technical work required on engineering and agronomic practices in the district, the technciians have assisted supervisors with regular news releases to the press, TV and radio. They have also assisted the supervisors with the writing of the district news letters on timely conservation problems.

The district now has the following equipment, valued at approximately $7,200. This equipment is rented to cooperators through the vocational agriculture teachers and custodians in the district: Five combination legume and fertilizer drills, rental charge 50 cents an acre; seven two-row legume and fertilizer drills, 50 cents an acre; seven two-row legume and grass seeders, 25 cents an acre; two grass drills, 50 cents an acre; two land levelers or land planes, 50 cents an acre or $5 a day; three border ridgers, $2 per day; two Clint Harber type cultivators with attached fertilizers and seeders, 50 cents an acre; one rock picker, $5 a day; one inter-row seeder, 25 cents an acre; three heavy duty rotary shredders, 25 cents an acre or $3 minimum per day.

Accomplishments by the district coperators for 1957, as given in the report, are as follows: Conservation crop rotation, 97 acres; contour farming, 16,082 acres; cover cropping, 958 acres; Crop residue utilization, 13,406 acres; land clearing for cultivation, 138 acres; rotation hay and pasture, 6,594 acres; stubble mulching, 701 acres; brush control, 1,969 acres; deferred grazing, 10,293 acres; pasture planting, 1,227 acres; proper use, 9,069 acres; range seeding, 329 acres; fish pond improvements, 64; wildlife, 17 acres; diversion construction, two miles; improved water application, 193 acres; laterals, one mile pond construction, 3; terracing, 1,051 miles; waterway development, 31 acres; water spreading, 32 acres.

Pointers on Cotton Root Rot Offered In Free Pamphlet

Cotton root rot is one of the most common plant diseases in Texas, Hamlin area farmers are reminded as the new cotton growing season gets underway. It generally is found throughout the state and in this area particularly.

About 80 per cent of the wild and cultivated plants in Texas are susceptible to the disease in varying degrees. It is combatted by growing resistant or immune plants, dry-out and acidifying the soil and by certain cultural practices. The disease seldom can be cured after it attacks a plant.

Plants suddenly die after the first symptoms of wilting. When pulled from the soil, the bark of the roots is decayed and brownish, and wooly strands of fungus frequently are on the surface. Under field conditons, the disease appears on spots which spread rapidly. Affected plants die suddenly, often after having made excelent growth. Large trees may die more slowly.

The Texas Agriculutral Extension Service has recently released a leaflet, "Cotton Root Rot," which gives much valuable information on the disease. Some of the sections in the leaflet are control on field crops, fruits and nuts, vegetables and ornamental plants.

It also contains a section on identification and has a chart which names trees, ornamentals, shrubs and flowers that are resistant to the disease.

The leaflet may be obtained from local county agents or the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas. Ask for L-390.

Boys' Quartet from Rotan Presents Rotary Program

A musical program of about 45 minutes was presented by a boys' quartet from Rotan High School as the program features of the regular luncheon meeting of the Hamlin Rotary Club last Wednesday at the oil mill guest house.

Directed and accompaned by Mrs. J. H. Harris, the quartet rendered classical, popular and bee-pop numbers of every description until, as one Rotarian put it, they were "plumb tuckered out from singing."

The quartet, composed of Lloyd Hurst, Ed Patterson, A. Garcia and Leroy Hill, was presented by C. L. Howard, program chairman for the day.

Besides the visitors from Rotan, other guests at the Wednesday luncheon meeting included Curtis Witt, Bernard Buie and Cleburne Huston of Stamford; and W. M. Shaddix of Abilene.

Cattle and Calf Market Strong, But Fails to Regain Losses of Last Week

Cattle and calves were slow and about steady on the Fort Worth market Monday, declares the weekly market summary of Ted Gouldy, special market reporter for The Herald. He continues: Salesmen were asking for higher prices following last week's declines, however, the buying side held firmly to the recently established lower schedule of values.

Good to choice slaughter yearlings and steers cashed at $24 to $27, and medium and lower grades cashed at $16 to $23. Fat cows sold from $17 to $19.50, with a few fancy young cows to $20 and $21 and above when maintaining heiferish characteristics. Canners and cutters sold from $12 to $17.50. Bulls drew $18 to $22.

Good and choice slaughter calves sold from $23 to $27.50, with heavies around 600 pounds and up at $26 down. Common and medium offerings sold from $17 to $23, and culls sold from $14 to $17.

Medium and good stocker steer calves sold from $24 to $30, and medium and good stocker steer yearlings sold from $22 to $27, with some choice thin lightweight yearlings to $28 and $28.50. Plainer stockers ranged around $20 to $24.

Sheep and lambs were steady with last week's close at Fort Worth Monday. Good and choice spring lambs sold mainly at $21 to $22, a few topping at $22.50. Less than choice spring lambs, while held in line with the lowered range established late last week, were still finding the better outlet to packers. Old crop yearling lambs cashed at strong prices, and sheep were steady.

Good and choice slaughter spring lambs sold from $21 to $22.50, and cull to medium springers sold from $15 to $20. Stocker and feeder spring lambs sold from $18 to $20.

Good and choice yearling lambs sold from $17 to $18.50, and cull to medium old crop lambs sold from $13 to $16.50. Feeder yearling wethers sold at $16.50 down. Yearling ewes sold from $19.50 down.

Aged wethers drew $12 to $13.50, and two-year-olds reached $15. Old ewes drew $7 to $8.

Hogs were steady to 25 cents higher at Fort Worth Monday than the close last week. Choice butcher hogs sold at $22 to $22.50, and medium to good hogs sold for $19 to $21.50. Sows cashed at $17.50 to $20. Stags drew $11 to $12.

The stocker and feeder cattle sales staged at Fort Worth this season will all be two-day affairs.

This arrangements was worked out with the convenience of the buyers who must travel a distance in mind, since it will enable them to see good commercial Southwestern Herefords on Thursdays and good commercial Angus stockers and feeders on Fridays.

Thus the travel expense will be virtually halved for buyers who attend these affairs.

The consignors will also find that the additional time will enable the salesmen to work the cattle out in more leisurely fashion and thus enable the commission firms themselves to contact their customers concerning filling orders for these cattle. This should strengthen the selling side considerably, since often a phone call is all that is needed to make the cattle bring that extra 50 cents or $1 per 100.

The first of these sales takes place Thursday, June 19, and will feature the white-faces. The second sale will be Friday, June 20. Both events will be jointly sponsored by the Fort Worth Market Institute and the breed associations.

Complete information, entry blanks, etc. may be obtained by contacting the Market Institute, Livestock Exchange Building, Fort Worth 6, Texas, or any livsetock commission firm or dealer on the Fort Worth market.

Henry Elder, secretary of the Texas Hereford Association, 1105 Burk Burnett Building, Fort Worth, can supply information to those interested in Herefords.

Ronald Blackwell, secretary of the Texas Angus Association, Livestock Exchange Building, Fort Worth 6, Texas, can supply information to those interested in Angus cattle.

Judging will begin promptly at 7:00 o'clock and will be conducted by the breed associations. Cattle to be entered in the judging feature of the events, must be in the yards by 5:00 a. m. Selling will begin at 9:00 a. m. All cattle must have a signed entry blank before they can be yarded in the show and sale division of the yards.

TEACHERS OF HAMLIN SCHOOLS

Short biographies of teachers in the Hamlin schools have been prepared during the year by members of the Fifty-Two Study Club as a feature project. Sketches of two of the teachers in the series are given below:

GEORGIA MOORE.

Georgia Moore, who lives at 138 West Lake Drive, grew up south of Merkel. She graduated from Merkel High School and attended West Texas State Teachers College at Canyon, later graduating from McMurry College at Abilene.

Miss Moore taught in the rural schools of Jones, Eastland, Robinson and Taylor Counties, including two years at Trent, before coming to Hamlin. She has taught in the fourth grade at Hamlin for the past 31 years.

She is a member of the First Methodist Church of Hamlin. Her hobbies are reading and doing hand work.

ODEAN MURPHREE.

Born in Cullman, Alabama, Odean Murphree is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Murphree. The family came to Texas when she was one year old, moving to Hamlin during her girlhood.

Miss Murphree attended schools of Hamlin, graduating from Hamlin High School in 1941. She attended Bethany Nazarene College at Bethany, Oklahoma, and graduated in 1945 with a BFA degree, having majored in public school music.

Miss Murphree taught in the elementary grades in Henryetta, Oklahoma, for two years before coming back to Hamlin to teach in the local schools. She has taught in Hamlin for the past 11 years, and has been principal of the Elementary School since 1952, and also teaches the fifth grade.

She received her masters degree from McMurry College in Abilene in 1957.

Miss Murphree is a member of the Church of the Nazarene.

She declares her hobby is music and record collecting.

COMPARATIVE.

The husband was curious. "Why do you weep and sniffle at a movie over the imaginary woes of people you never met?"

Wife—"The same reason why you scream and yell when a man you don't know slides into second base."

Characters do not change. Oninions alter, but characters are only developed.—Disraeli.

Children's Photos To Be Made for Picture Contest

Wednesday, May 28, is the day that the kiddies of the Hamlin territory will again meet their photographer friend, Winston Lucas of Irving, and have their pictures made for the annual children's photo contest.

Mr. Lucas will be at the Hassen building, next door to West Texas Utilities Company, on Wednesday, May 28 only, between 10:30 a. m. and 6:00 p. m. to make pictures of children in this area.

The photos will be made free of charge and each child will have his picture published in The Hamlin Herald. In addition, the children will be competing for $18.20 in prizes, being offered for the three best photographs made during the day.

Proofs will be shown and from these the parents may make their choice for the pictures you wish to appear in The Herald.

Of course you may purchase extra pictures, but no purchase is necessary in order to compete for the prizes, Lucas explains.

Now don't forget the date and time—Wednesday, May 28, only, [illegible] a. m. till 6:00 p. m. [illegible] friends who live in [illegible] as well as those who live [illegible] will be quite happy and proud to see the kiddies' pictures in The Herald. There is no age limit.

New Variety of Bush Watermelon Practical For Smaller Gardens

Home gardeners with limited space have ever been able to grow the large vining types of watermelons, points out County Agent Bill Lehmberg.

Texas Agricultural Experiment Station has just released a new variety of watermelon designed to fit into even the smallest home garden. This variety has been named the Bush Desert King and, as the name suggests it grows in a bush form rather than in the characteristic vine form.

The plant of this melon usually extends from four to six feet from tip to tip and measures about 18 inches in height. Dr. H. C. Mohr, who designed this variety, states that it requires very little more space than a bush squash. This plant is very resistant to wind damage in the early spring, and heavy foliage protects the fruit from sunburn and from crow damage. The melon is yellow fleshed and of very good quality. The average size is from 20 to 25 pounds, concludes Lehmberg.

JUST A WARNING.

A motorist stopped at small garage and complained to the mechanic, "Whenever I hit 80 miles there's a knocking in the engine."

After a lengthy examination and testing, the mechanic drawled, "I don't see anything wrong, mister. It must be the good Lord warning you."

Women and Women's Organizations May Vie for Awards in Traffic Safety

American women who plan and carry out traffic safety programs are eligible for nation-wide awards totaling $3,500, according to the National Safety Council.

These are the 1958 Carol Lane awards, presented to the three individual women and three women's or parents group who, in the opinion of a board of judges, have developed and directed the most effective traffic safety programs between June 15, 1957, and June 15, 1958.

Deadline for all entries is midnight June 15, 1958.

Last year's top individual winner was a Colorado woman who helped initiate state-wide safety committees within county and local clubs of her state's Home Demonstration Council. An Ohio women's organization took top honors in the group category by organizing a county traffic safety committee.

The awards are named for the women's travel director of Shell Oil Company, and are administered by the National Safety Council through a grant from Shell. They are presented each October to the winners at the National Safety Congress in Chicago.

The Carol Lane awards are the only national recognition for women's contribution to the preservation of lives through traffic safety programs in their community or state.

Entries should be mailed to Alice Catherine Mills at the National Safety Council, 425 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, where entry blanks and information about the awards may also be obtained.

SWITCHES AUTOMATICALLY FROM HEATING TO COOLING

The Heat Pump is completely automatic. During changeable weather, even if it is within the hour, the Heat Pump will switch from heating to cooling or back again if the outside temperature so requires.

You do not need to change the temperature dial, you just set the thermostat for the temperature you desire and forget it. The Heat Pump is the ONLY completely automatic Air Conditioner.

COMPLETE YEAR-ROUND AIR CONDITIONING IN ONE UNIT

The All-Electric Heat Pump provides complete automatic "comfort conditioning" for your home the year around, using only air and electricity. The same unit that cools your home also heats it. It also removes excess humidity and filters out dust and pollen. Because only air and electricity are used, the Heat Pump provides maximum cleanliness and complete safety.

Here's How It Works

The Heat Pump operation uses the basic principle that heating and cooling is a matter of moving heat from one place to another.

In winter the Heat Pump extracts heat units from outside air (even if it is freezing) and pumps warm air into your house. In summer the heat pump reverses itself automatically and operates like any refrigerated air conditioner—it takes the heat out of the house and pumps it outside.

Call or come to see us and our air conditioning engineers will explain the Heat Pump more thoroughly to you.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin.—At least one segment of Texas economy—highway construction—is booming. One reason: The Texas Highway Department isn't letting grass grow under its feet in getting federal emergency projects underway.

Low bids tabulated at the department's May letting totaled $19,187,933. State Highway Engineer DeWitt C. Greer, in opening the May letting, said that about $25,000,000 in road projects would be up for bids next month.

This figure, if reached, would set a new record.

A big chunk of this upsurge comes from Texas' $36,000,000 share of the federal emergency fund, authorized by Congress this year to get extra money into the economy fas tand provide needed roads. All of this work must be put under contract by December.

Texas highway officials hope to beat the deadline by several months. Time was, too, when the emphasis was mainly on the need for fine, new roads to accommodate the growing stream of fine, new cars. Today there's also emphasis on the number of people who will be put to work, the money they will spend on groceries, cars, clothes.

High Tension. — With millions involved, the highway lettings are scenes of high tension. Sunburned, sport shirted contractors, plus materials men and insurers flock to the department's hearing room where the sealed bids are opened and read, item by item.

Department personnel have an electronic computer to add up the item bids and determine the low bidder. Results are announced later in the day. But contractors or their representatives take down the bids on the spot and make rapid calculations.

It isn't hard to spot the man who's just realized he missed a million dollar job by bidding a few hundred dollars high. Typical muttered comment: "He can't do it for the money!"

Bumpy Road. — Although the mammoth highway building program is moving forward, top speed, there are problems along the road. Chief bone of contention, now in the courts, is whether cost of relocating utilities to make way for new construction should be borne by the cities and utility companies or the state.

A law passed by the last Legislature authorizes the state, with 50 per cent federal aid, to pay for utility relocation on the federal projects.

Attorney General Will Wilson has ruled that part of the law invalid in "donating public monies to corporations and individuals . . . for privat eand individual purposes." Wilson filed a test case in an Austin district court. City officials through the Texas League of Municipalities, take the opposite view. They contend that the other states cities get this money for utility moving and that Texans, through federal taxes contribute to the cost. Besides, they add, it will cost the cities $20,000,000.

Hospital Officials.— The Texas Board for State Hospitals and Special Schools has a flock of new names topping its roster of officials.

W. W. Heath of Austin was named chairman of the board. He succeeds Dr. Raleigh Ross, also of Austin. Howard Hellepsen of Houston is the new vice chairman.

Raymond W. Vowell was appointed executive director of the hospital system. This post has been vacant nearly a year.

It was announced also that Dr. C. J. Ruilmann, now commissioner of mental health for Tennessee, will belcome director of Texas mental hospitals in June.

Heath, appointed to the board by Governor Price Daniel last fall is prominent in business circles as an attorney, banker and rancher. He also is a former county judge, secretary of state and assistant attorney general.

Short Snorts.— A slight downward trend in joblessness was noted in the Texas Employment Commission's latest report. Number of persons receiving unemployment compensation checks dropped from 90,349 to 90,913.

A former TEC attorney, Lee G. Williams, has filed suit in an Austin disrtict court for reinstatement to the jbo from which he was fired last month. Williams contends that his postion in Texas Merit System corresponds to federal civil service status and he cannot be fired for the reasons given. A majority of the three-man commission said they had "no confidence" in Williams.

Twenty-two bus companies operating in Texas have asked the Texas Railroad Commission for permission to hike their intrastate (within the state only) fares by 10 per cent. They are being squeezde by increased operating costs, say the companies.

Fred Erisman of Longview has been named chairman of the new Texas Council on Administration of Justice. Council's purpose is to work with other groups in curbing crime and delinquency.

Maco Stewart of Galveston, former assistant attorney general, was elected new president of the liberal-dominated Young Democrats Club at its Austin meeting. Young Democrats officially criticized recent legislative action designed 'to illegally circumvent the U. S. constitution as interpreted by the Supreme Court."

Whatever they think of candidates, some half-million Texas citizens won't be able to do much about it at election time next summer. State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert reported that paid poll taxes and exemptions dropped from 2,410,188 to 2,055,318 this year.

State Department of Health is urging the establishment of more poison information centers over Texas. Four Texas cities—Austin, Galveston, Houston and Fort Worth—now have such centers able to give immediate and sometimes life saving information on what antidote to use for what poison.

The linotype machine was first put into practical use by the New York Tribune in 1886.

HAD ITS ADVANTAGE.

A salesman, tired of his job, gave it up and became a policeman. Several months later a friend asked him, "Do you like being a policeman?"

"Well," he reflected, "the pay isn't too high and the hours are long, but the part I really like is that the customer is always wrong."

Junior High School Seventh Graders Participate in Unique Book Club Plan

Seventh graders in the classes of Mrs. E. N. Jenkins in Hamlin Junior High School have had the opportunity this year to become part of a unique plan called the Teen-Age Book Club.

This Teen-Age Book Club is a book club similar to adult book clubs which makes available to students a wide range of good books at low cost. Members may choose each month from 16 of the best pocket size 25-cent and 35-cent books issued by leading publishers. There are no dues or membership fees. A member may order as many or as few books as he wishes. No specific number is required.

The TAB national selection committee, a board of five distinguished educators and librarians, select the titles for their quality and appeal to teen-agers. To suit the varied tastes, each month's selections include fiction, adventure, biography, sports, humor, science fiction, animal stories, mysteries and other reading enjoyed by young people. Many of the selections are published by the Teen-Age Book Club exclusively for its members and are not available through usual retail outlets.

An attractive feature of the club is the free dviidend plan. For every four books purchased members may choose one book as a free dividend. These divdiends are distributed at the end of each semester and are selected from a special list of popular titles.

Once a club is organized, each member receives a free personal copy of the monthly four-page TAB News. In this illustrated publicaiton are reviews of new book selections, comments by and about favorite authors, and a number of other features designed to stimulate reading interest.

The main advantage of the club is that it enables teen-agers to build their own libraries of good books at a price within reach of the average student's pocketbook.

During the current school year 47 students have ordered books from the club. Total books ordered amount to 456. This means that 105 free dividends were distributed, in addition to the 456 purchased, making a total of 561 books brought into homes by this means.

Mark Smith, most avid reader in the group, bought 36 books and received nine dividends, for a total of 45 books. Tommy Shelburne and Thelma McClung, eighth graders, also purchased over 30 books apiece.

Most popular books among the students proved to be humorous, with biography and animal stories coming in as next favorites. Science fiction, sport and mysteries also were widely read.

Nazarenes Looking To Church Founding Event at Pilot Point

The eyes of Texas—and the minds and hearts of many devout Christians around the world—will be upon Pilot Point, a small village in the north central part of the Lnoe Star State next October 13, according to Rev. Bill Hanna, pastor of the Hamlin Church of the Nazarene.

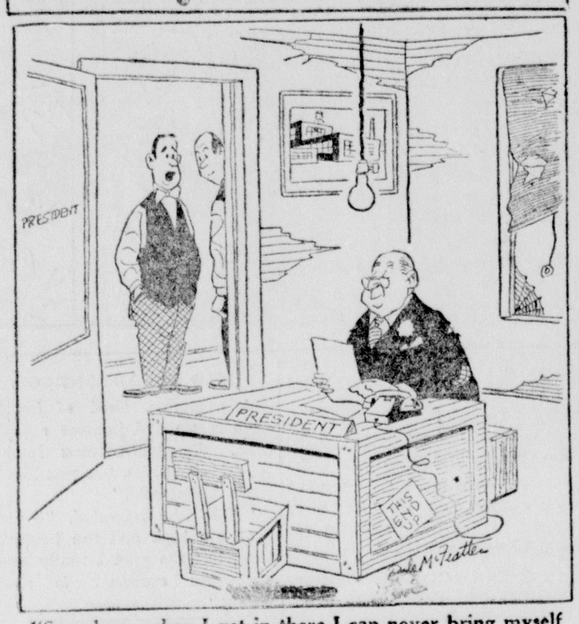

On that date, a monument of pink Texas granite will be unveiled there, marking the exact place where the Church of the Nazarene, an international Protestant denomination, was founded 50 years ago. The ceremony will take place with an appropriate program before a throng of visitors that will double the usual village population.

Among the notables invited will be the governor of Texas. The Church of the Nazarene is believed to be the only religious denomination that claims Texas as a birthplace.

On the natal day 50 years ago delegates from 228 churches with 10,414 members in the East, West and South voted unanimously to unite. Their great common bond was agreement in the Wesleyan doctrine of entire sanctification, or heart purity. The Nazarene Church now has 4,500 churches with nearly 300 000 members.

Plans for the special Pilot Point program are being completed by a committee of two Texans and two church leaders from Kansas City. They are John Stockton and S. T. Ludwig of Kansas City, Geron Roberts of Pilot Point and Orville Jenkins of Lubbock.

Senator Johnson Says Treatment of Nixons in Latin America No Surprise

The American people are deeply shooked by the treatment accorded the vice president and his wife in Latin America, notes U. S. Senator Lyndon B. Johnson in his weekly news release to The Herald from Washington. He continues: The shock is understandable. The vice president is the symbol and the representative of our government.

As one who has been intimately acquainted—on terms of mutual respect and friendship—with Latin Americans for many years, I am confident that this feeling of shock is shared by our neighbors to the South. The fact is that those who atatcked our vice president are the enemies of Latin America just as they are the enemies of the United States.

We are faced by a common peril—an unthinking force directed by coldly calculating men in Moscow and Peiping.

An enemy of civilization is loose in the world. That enemy has the intelligence and the skill to capitalize on our mistakes and our weaknesses and will do so at every opportunity.

The demonstrations against our vice president are, in part, manifestations of temporary conditions that are being deliberately exploited by the enemies of freedom. We must recognize those temporary conditions, whatever they may be. We must not close our eyes to thir implications.

The bad economic conditions in Latin America are a dirct reflection of the business slump in this country—a situation that has cut down purchasing power. As Allen Dulles has said, this recession is a luxury that our government cannot afford. To an uncomfortable extent, we are paying the penalty for procrastination at home as well as abroad.

We are living in an age of "brush fires" which can spring up at many unexpected points in the world. We must be prepared to fight those fires effectively—and we must recognize that such fires are not put out solely by guns and troops.

There are times in which all Americans must stand together. These are times also in which civilized men throughout the world must stand together — against book-burning, against ugly mobs, against tyranny.

Unity of freedom loving men and women is vitally necessary. But there is more involved here than a demonstration of unity. Along with unity there is need for a prudent, thoughtful, deep reaching reappraisal of the position of the United States in the world.

It is an urgent need, one that all Americans, working together, must meet without dlay. I am confident we can meet it. I am confident we will meet it.

MIGHT NIGH IMPOSSIBLE.

Hamlin Junior High School students did very well on the Gray-Votaw-Rogers achievement tests given two weeks ago, according to Marvin Carlton, principal. The G-V-R achievement test is a national standard test and is not constructed to specifically test Texas students, the principal has pointed out.

Students in the sixth, seventh and eighth grades had 132 pupils at or above the national norm and 94 below the national norm. The sixth grade led the classes with 59 above and 26 below. The seventh grade had 32 above and 35 below. The eighth grade had 41 above and 33 below.

April Milk Price Set At $5.70 a 100 in Area

During April, 1958, there were 570 milk producers in the Central West Texas market compared to 581 during March and 668 during April, 1957. Although there were 98 fewer producers on the market during April this year than during April, 1957, producer receipts were 3.15 per cent greater during April, 1958, than during the same month a year earlier. The average daily delivery per producer during April this year was 842 pounds compared to 783 pounds during March and 697 pounds during April, 1957.

Uniform base price of $5.70 per 100 pounds was paid to producers of the area, including a number in the territory south of Hamlin.

PLYMOUTH SAVES YOU MONEY ON GAS...
MOBILGAS ECONOMY RUN VICTORY PROVES IT!

New "Fuel-Saver" Choke that helped clinch title is standard equipment on all Plymouth V-8s

Pound for pound, Plymouth uses less gasoline than either of the "other two" cars in the low-price "3"! This was proved beyond doubt when a 1958 Plymouth V-8 was officially declared winner of the low-price car competition in the 1958 Mobilgas Economy Run. Plymouth's competitors also entered cars with 6-cylinder engines (supposedly more economical) but Plymouth beat every car in its class—V-8s and 6s alike!

This title-winning Plymouth is exactly the same Belvedere V-8 with TorqueFlite Automatic Transmission that you can buy right off your Plymouth dealer's floor.

These tests prove that every Plymouth has built-in economy features not found in the "other two". For instance—one of the most important factors in Plymouth's smashing win is the new "Fuel-Saver" Choke that you get at no extra cost on all Plymouth V-8s. This ingenious device employs a triple-stage vacuum piston and a new thermostatic element to reduce the amount of fuel you use in warming up the engine. So it can save you even more on short-distance drives—the kind most people make.

Among the many other savings Plymouth gives you is the $140 you save on standard-equipment Torsion-Aire Ride. The "other two" charge up to that much extra for their best suspension systems.

So if you are dollar-conscious, better hustle over and talk terms and trade with your Plymouth dealer. He wants your business, and he'll go all out to get it!

Agriculture Not Dwindling Away But It Needs Revamping, Says U. S. Senator

Is agriculture dwindling away to a position of relative unimportance? asks U. S. Senator Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas in his weekly news letter from Washington to The Herald. Then he answers his query with a positive "No." His release continues:

Industry is growing in our state and more than half of our people are now concentrated in urban areas. These are facts—but they point not to a decline in farming but to a change in farming.

The number of workers on Texas farms and ranches has been going down for years—from 34 per cent of the population in 1940 to 13 per cent now. Technological progress has made possible greater farm productivity with fewer workers. But that same progress has resulted in great increases in the number of persons supplying farmers and processing and distributing farm products.

The total number of Texans dependent on agriculture for their living has declined only from 45 to 40 per cent since 1940, according to Texas A. & M. College agronomists.

Our economic welfare still has its root sin the good earth. Farmhas changed, but agriculture is still highly basic to the economy of Texas.

Every Texan thus has a stake in governmental policies that affect agriculture.

That is why I am deeply concerned when the president vetoed a bill designed only to insure that farm prices will not be lower this year than they were last year.

That is why a sound world trade program means so much to Texas, for it provides a two-way street along which we can move a substantial part of our farm production.

That is why Texans are concerned with the economic improvement of impoverished nations, enabling those nations to buy more of our food and fiber and more of the products manufactured from them.

That is why water for agriculture is as important as water for industry — why agricultural research is no less vital than industrial research.

What's good for Texas agriculture is good for every Texan, no matter where his pay check comes from.

The fundamental farm problem is simply to get a fair share of the national income for farmers. They are not getting it now.

In 14 states the principal income is from industry. The average per captia personal income in those states in 1956 was approximately $2,244.

In the remaining 34 states, including Texas, the principal income is from agricultural production and other raw materials. The average per capita personal income in those states in 1956 was approximately $1,574.

That is a difference of $670 per capita.

The difference is too great.

Foursquare Group Slates Three-Day Rally at Pentecost

In keeping with the old Jewish law of the Feast of Pentecost, and the earliest Christian Church which commemorated the day of Pentecost, there will be a three-day rally in the Hamlin Foursquare Church. It will begin on Friday night, May 23, and continue through Sunday evening. There will be a guest speaker, Rev. Tommy McCelland, a district officer from Abilene.

On Friday evening at 7:30 Rev. McCelland will be singing with his family and then speaking on that opening night.

Saturday evening, Rev. John Holland, pastor of the church, will be speaking in answer to the inquiries of this day. He will answer these questions: What is then Holy Spirit? What is the baptism of the Holy Spirit? Is s for today? All of this will be under the topic of "Why I Believe in the Baptism of the Holy Spirit."

Rev. Holland will be speaking Sunday morning in keeping with the theme of the day of Pentecost. There will also be special music.

To close the three days of services Rev. McCelland will bring the closing address. A warm welcome awaits all of the friends and members of the church. "Come and enjoy worship each evening at 7:30," says Rev. Holland.

Congressman Burleson Says Running To Washington Will Not Solve All Ills

On the night of April 10, Ben Wooten, president of the First National Bank of Dallas, made a speech in Abilene, notes Congressman Omar Burleson in his weekly news letter from Washington. He continues: In that speech he inferentially chided the business interests of the country for not doing a better job of selling to cure and prevent a recession. It seems Wooten is critical of everyone running to Washington looking for governmental remedies for all the ills which beset us.

There are hundreds of pressure groups in the United States organized for the purpose of gaining favors from government. Many of them force government into improper activities. It is the conclusion of some very intelligent people that this practice has brought about a condition which has destroyed a lot of individual initiative, which otherwise could contribute to the economic life of the country.

Many clubs and organizations act very much like the government. When something is needed they figure the best thing to do is appoint a committee to look into the matter. In government we find instances of a committee or commission appointing another committee or commission, and finally with authority complete diffused, no one knows what anybody else is supposed to do. Of course, the result of such a situation is that nothing is done.

Back to Wooten's speech: I think he disproved what a farmer once gave as his reason for success. This well-to-do farmer (back in the days when there were well-to-do farmers) said that he attributed his success to staying away from mean horses, hay balers and bankers. But Wooten recommended in his talk that it is the business of business to do more for itself. His point has been proved lately by one large manufacturer of radio and television sets. Price cuts were made by this company as an experiment. Reports indicate amazing results. The company had such an increase in demand it had to hire more workers to fill its orders.

As long as industry and business look to Washington to cure all the economic ills, there are plenty of those in Washington who are ready and willing to try it.

This time last year economy was the watchword. There is not very much being said about it at this time. The business community of our country is seemingly willing for the pumps to be primed. The primer and the grease for the pump will be bought on credit, but not the usual kind. When an individual buys on the installment plan he pays in the future for whatever he has purchased at present prices. The pump priming of government will be paid for in the future at a higher price than that now prevailing, even in these inflationary times. This will come about because the "priming" will result in deficit financing, and deficit financing means mroe inflation. More inflation means higher prices — it means the government is mortgaging the future of its taxpayers.

Slower Driving Is Paying Off in Less Fatal Accidents

A slower driving Texas public during 1957 produced the lowest death rate in the state's history, the Texas Department of Public Safety reported this week in a release to The Herald.

The encouraging information released by Colonel Homer Garrison Jr., DPS director, was part of the department's annual statistical report on traffic accidents, as compiled by N. K. Woerner, department statistician. The new booklet is entitled "1.6 MPH."

Garrison said the average speed of all vehicles on Texas rural highways in 1957 was 1.6 miles per hour less than in 1956. Most of this speed reduction was in the 60-mph-and-above category.

"This slower average speed is a significant factor in holding the state's death rate to 6.0—six motorcides per each 100,000,000 miles of driving. More directly, we believe this speed reduction during 1957 has prevented the death of 111 persons who would have died had the 1956 rate of 6.5 continued."

The state police director pointed out that speed reduction alone is not the total answer to traffic accident prevention, but that severity of accidents increases with speed.

"All regulations governing the movement of motor vehicles are designed to prevent traffic accidents. But it is only when all drivers comply with all traffic regulations will accidents be prevented.

"The public's response to our 1957 traffic safety campaign is very encouraging; we ask for the continued cooperation of Texas motorists in making 1958 an even safer year for driving."

Tourist Industry Worth Millions of Dollars to Texas and State Businesses

Visitors to Texas spent more money and stayed around longer spending it in 1957 than during any previous year, so indicates the tourist industry report released by the Texas Highway Department this week.

D. C. Greer, state highway engineer, pointed to statistics in the report which show that expenditures per person per day jumped to $8.22 in 1957 as compared to $7.71 in 1956. "Moreover, the typical tourist extended his visit to 6.3 days in 1957 as against 5.9 days the previous year," Greer observed.

The report defined tourist dollars as new money earned elsewhere and brought into the community where it is then spent and respent into the local business cycle. Specifically, tourist dollars to the tune of $551,000,000 made music in Texas cash registers and jingled in the pockets of Texas jeans last year. This whopping amount was cleared from tourists traveling by automobile. Greer pointed out that this was an impressive increase over 1956's intake of $379,000,000. The report says that approximately $98,900,000 was spent also in 1957 by tourists visiting Texas by air, rail, bus and ship.

Largest part of the tourist dollar in Texas is spent for food, lodging and car upkeep. To serve those basic needs, the report estimates, 25,320 established businesses with 102,265 employees are required. The final figures are increased many times when the retail stores, amusement spots, gift shops and other places where the remainder of the tourist dollar is spent are considered.

Tourists themselves provide the records from which the highway department obtains the statistics in the annual tourist industry report, Greer remarked. Survey cards, to be completed and mailed back after the visit in Texas, are given tourists stopping at the department's seven highway travel information bureaus located on major highways entering the state. Last year the bureaus played host to 174,000 such out-of-state guests.

Estimated 60 from County Asked to Take Draft Exams

State draft boards are being asked to forward 3,410 men for preinduction physical and mental examinations in June, Col. Morris S. Schwartz, state selective service director, said Friday. An estimated 60 from Jones County are to be included in the call.

At the same time, the 137 draft boards over the state are being requested to send 519 men in June for induction into the Army. The county will furnish an estimated three of this number.

The quota for examinations in June drops from a figure of 4,247 in May. The induction figure of 519 compares with 677 for May.

Draft examination figures took a jump upward in April, when more than 4,000 men were ordered examined. From January through March, the calls for this purpose ran about 2,000 a month.

Quotas for examination in 1957 ran as high as 3,000 a month, but in the last quarter of 1957 only 43 men were examined.

None younger can be called up unless they are volunteers, delinquents or some who fail to participate satisfactorily as reservists or members of the National Guard.

The June induction call of 519 is the state's share of a national quota of 10,000 men, all for the Army. Most of those inducted will be 22 years old.

Eight Gilts Go to County 4-H Club Group Saturday

Eight registered Duroc gilts were awarded to Jones County 4-H Club members last Friday at Anson under the supervision of Kirby Clayton, county agent.

Those receiving the gilts include Richie Cox of Anson, Mike Barbee of Noodle, Kathleen Lollar of Anson, Sandra Carter of Anson, Billy DeBusk of Anson, Terry Touchstone of Noodle, Billy Fillmon of Avoca and William Teague of Anson.

A registered Duroc boar, purchased from Abilene Christian College, will be awarded to a 4-H Club member when judging of the essays for the boar has been completed.

To qualify for one of these registered gilts, interested club members are required to submit to the county agent an essay entitled "The Value of Producing Hogs as a Source of Cash Income on Our Farm," and winners are selected from those submitting essays.

In this program, sponsored by Sears Roebuck Foundation, the club member agrees to feed, care for and breed sow pigs under the direction and supervision of the county agent. They also agree to return the choicest gilt with certificate of registration from their first litter to the county agent for distribution to other club members in the county the following year.

The gilts and boar are exhibited by the club member in the county and district livestock shows and the store area show, and prizes are awarded to the winners by Sears Roebuck Foundation. Also awards are given for the heaviest litter at 56 days of age in each store area.

NFLA Offices May Be Combined in Economy Move

As an economy move, and in cooperation with a state-wide program being sponsored by the Federal Land Bank of Houston, the directors of the Jones County National Farm Loan Asscication at Anson, the Haskell County National Farm Loan Association in Haskell, and the Baylor-Knox National Farm Loan Association at Seymour have voted to approve consolidation.

Notices calling a special stockholders' meeting of the Jones County National Farm Loan Association on June 4 to act upon this proposal have been mailed to each stockholder-member of the association, according to Joe Breed, secretary-treasurer. That meeting is to be held in the county court room of the courthouse at 2:00 p. m. Wednesday, June 4. Breed urges a large attendance of the stockholder-members so that they may have the proposal explained to them in detail.

Under the plan as outlined by the Federal Land Bank of Houston, the central office of the consolidated association will be located at Haskell. However, the Federal Land Bank plans that the consolidated association will maintain an outpost office in Anson at the association's present location. Breed indicated that under the proposed plan of operation there would be little variation from the present procedure and arrangements as for as land owners of Jones County are concerned. They will continue to make their contacts through the Anson office in regard to new loans and also in regard to the servicing of their already outstanding loans.

Simple Mistakes in Arithmetic Cause of Much Tax Confusion

Some of us know that the groundhog cannot predict the weather. But there are other folks who figure that the TV weatherman makes more mistakes than the groundhog does. When it comes to filing income tax returns lots of folks see their shadow and run for cover, says Tax Man Sam in a release to The Herald.

Somehow or other taxpayers fail to add and subtract right on their tax returns. Uncle Sam says more people add in favor of themselves instead of the government. However, a lot of people cost themselves instead of the government by failing to add or subtract right.

The government has lots of adding machines and they check the tax return carefully and try to correct the errors. It pays to check your addition on your tax return instead of completing a correspondence course with the income tax folks.

Nothing is cheap which is superfluous, for what one does not need is dear at a penny.—Plutarch.

Dr. Travis A. White, Commencement Speaker at HHS, Has Wide Background

Dr. Travis A. White, president of Midwestern University at Wichita Falls, has an interesting background. He will be the speaker for commencement exercises of Hamlin High School Thursday evening. This will be his first public appearance in Hamlin.

Dr. White came to the Midwestern presidency from Atlantic Christian College of Wilson, North Carolina.

He was born in Hammond, Louisiana in 1909 and graduated from Byrd High School of Shreveport, Louisiana, in 1926. He attended Texas Christian Unversity in Fort Worth, receiving an AB degree in 1932 and a BD degree in 1934, with further graduate training at the University of Chicago in 1935 and Union Theological Seminary in 1941. Texas Christian University conferred on him the honorary degree of DD in 1949.

Prior to his entrance into the field of higher education, Dr. White was a successful minister of the Christian Church, with which he now maintains his ministerial standing. He is active in the national and state work of his church and participates in many inter-denominational activities on a community and state level.

Dr. White is an active participant in civic and community life. He is a member of the downtown Rotary Club, is a thirty-second degree Mason. He is a member of the Salvation Army advisory board, the board of directors of the Boys Club, and the board of directors of the United Fund.

Dr. White has completed a world tour of more than 35,000 miles, visiting many nations of the world, the mission work of his church and the Holy Land.

He has through the years had a keen interest in higher education. He served for four years as a member of the board of trustees of Phillips University and was active in the creation and development of the Texas Tech Christian Foundation at Lubbock. He has served as a member of teams for university Christian missions and as a speaker at student retreats. He is serving now as a member of the board of higher education of Christian Churches and state chairman of the campus Christian life committee of Christian Churches.

Dr. White has been a believer in and leader of young people through the years. It is his belief that a well rounded university education should help the student achieve personal stability, adequate social adjustment, vocational competence and spiritual awareness. Under his leadership Midwestern University is seeking to meet the educational needs of the citizenship of North Texas and Southern Oklahoma. The university not only mantains a strong under-graduate school but a graduate program offering the masters degree, an evening college designed for those who desire to continue their college training but who must work during the day time. A rapidly growing service of the university is its program of adult education for those who do not want college credit but who want training in many fields of endeavor. The new school of petroleum and physical sciences was established in September, 1957, and the newly created school of business will begin in September, 1958. Athletes at DePriest Colored School Make Good Record During Past Year

Coach Roosevelt Jones of DePriest Colored School in Hamlin declares his athletes have had a fairly successful season in all sports.

Albert Douglas Jr. won the boys' tennis singles event in the district meet to represent DePriest School at the state meet. He also teamed with William H. Brown to gain runner-up honors in the district boys' doubles event.

This marks the second consecutive year that a DePriest player has participated in the state meet at Prairie View A. & M. College.

John H. Chase was one of the three trackmen who participated at the district meet and won a first place. This qualified him to run in the state meet.

All of DePreist's trackmen placed in their respective events. Speedy Baldwin placed second in the 880-yard run, and Jesse Gilbert placed fourth in the 440-yard dash. The district meet was held at Colorado City.

The Steers played a very rugged scheduled during the basketball season. They were stubborn, especially on their home court where most of their victories were won. The Steers were knocked out of the district tournament, held at Big Spring, by Crane. Crane won the district title and the state title for Class B schools.

Captain Speedy Baldwin enjoyed a great season, and again won the DePriest best boys' athlete award. Jesse Gilbert, John Chase, Fred Thompson, William Brown and Albert Douglas are the other basketball lettermen for the 1958 season. Other members of the team were William Covington, Joseph Anderson, Gene Smith and Virgil Austin.

Next season will find the Steers without the services of Speedy Baldwin and Albert Douglas, who were starters this season. More prospects than before will be in store for Coach Jones, who has been eyeing new talent in the eighth grade in the persons of Robert Jones, Curtis Clay, Hardy Nabors, J. Pinkin and several others.

Coach Jones has chosen Jesse Gilbert to be captain for the cagers for the coming 1959 season.

VALUE OF FRIENDS.

It is great to have friends when one is young, but indeed it is still more so when you are getting old. When we are young, friends are, like everything else, a matter of course. In the old days we know what it means to have them.—Edvard Grieg.

Obeying Traffic Laws Is Practical Business Matter

"Traffic laws are on your side—and you should know and obey them!"

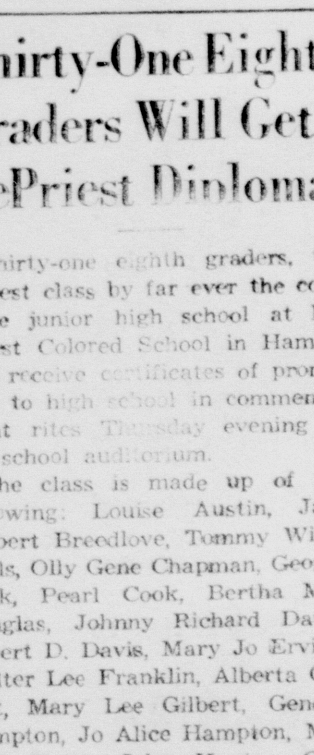

J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association, made this statement this week as he urged the public to support the traffic laws program currently being conducted by TSA and the National Safety Council as a part of the nation-wide back-the-attack on traffic accidents campaign.

"You can't afford to be careless or thoughtless in traffic," Musick said. "Your life depends on your behind-the-wheel behavior."

The safety expert urged the citizens of Texas to obey traffic laws to the letter. He said that some drivers knowingly play dangerous angles and short cuts—they jump red lights at intersections, never really stop at stop signs and overdrive the speed limits. He said that these drivers too often end up paying a high price for their lawlessness—a serious injury and sometimes death.

"If every driver would realize that the traffic laws are on his side, he wouldn't think of disregarding them," Music said. "When you drive faster than the speed limit, make wrong turns, go through red lights or stop signs or pass improperly, you run these risks—traffic fines, costly car repairs, towing costs, medical bills, lost wages, damage suits, lawyer's fees and loss of your driver's license.

Rev. Calvin Bailey Is Baccalaureate Speaker Sunday

"The Life That Is Able to Stand" was the topic of Rev. Calvin Bailey, pastor of the First Baptist Church, when he spoke Sunday evening at the baccalaureate services for graduates of Hamlin High School Sunday evening.

"Into every life there will come the time of testing," declared the preacher. "The life that stands (1) Has a firm faith in God; (2) is loyal to the program of his church; (3) is filled with moral uprightness; and (4) is intimately related to Jesus Christ."

The baccalaureate services, first of the commencement rites for the 197-58 term of school at Hamlin High School, were conducted Sunday evening in the high school auditorium, which was practically filled with relatives and friends of the graduating class.

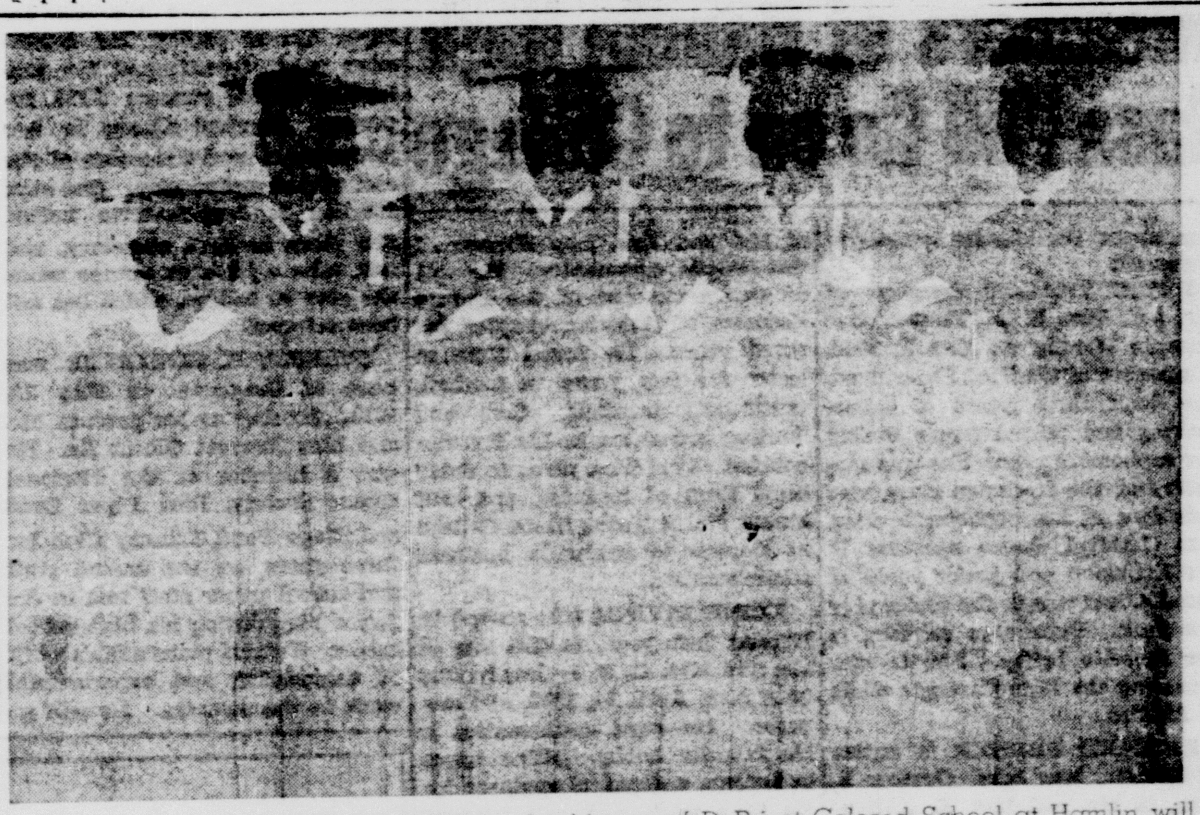

Rev. Bailey was used as speaker for the occasion in continuation of the plan of using local ministers for baccalaureate services in rotation, a plan started several years ago.

The program began with processional by Ginger Rabjohn, HHS junior. Members of the graduating class marched in and took their seats in the section reserved for them in the front center of the auditorium.

Rev. Henry C. Adair, pastor of Faith Methodist Church, offered the invocation. Two vocal solo numbers, "You'll Never Walk Alone" and "The Lord's Prayer," were rendered by Danny McCurdy. Following announcements by Superintendent of Schools C. F. Carlisle, scripture was read by Rev. W. [illegible] pastor of the Church of the Nazarene.

After Rev. Bailey's sermon, the benediction was offered by Rev. Woodrow McHugh, pastor of the North Central Avenue Baptist Church. Ginger Rabjohn played the recessional as the seniors filed back out of the auditorium.

Characters were Bobbie Jean Jeffrey, Marie Griffin, Shirley Ann Jones, Jessye Faye Williams, Hattie Tillman, Laverne Ellis, Virgil Austin, Jimmy Nabors and Albert Douglas Jr.

Musical numbers were presented between acts such as "Tequila," "The Stroll," etc. Guest soloist was 10-year-old Floyd Dillard of Rotan.

The auditorium was filled to capacity for the play. The audience requested that the play be restaged Friday night, May 16.

This department was also represented in the Interscholastic League meet in junior and senior declaiming. Bertha Mae Douglas represenitng the school in junior declaiming, and William Henry Brown as senior declaimer. Neither placed in the district this year, although William Henry has won the district for four years in succession and placed second each year in the state.

Jessye Faye Williams Named Valedictorian For DePriest School

FOREIGN ACCENT

One sheep meeting another said, "Baaa."

"What in the world is the matter with you?" asked the first woolly character. "Are you off your rocker?"

More Than 75 Hamlin High Students Take Merit Schloaship Qalifying Tests

More than 75 students at Hamlin High School took the national merit scholarship qualifying tests, B. V. Newberry, principal, announced last week. The test was administered in the high school recently.

An estimated $5,000,000 in merit scholarships and other awards are at stake in hte national competition, now beginning its fourth year. Some $12,000,000 in merit scholarships have been awarded in the first three years of the program.

Merit scholarships are provided by some 80 corporations, foundations, professional societies and individuals, as well as by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation itself, which conducts the competition.

The national merit scholarship qualifying test is a three-hour measure of educational growth and aptitude. Emphasis is on broad intellectual skills, and on understanding and ability to use what has been learned, rather than on sheer knowledge of facts.

A group of 10,000 students—composed of the highest scorers in each state—will advance to the semi-finals when the results are reported to all participating schools next fall. Semi-finalists will then take a second examination. Those who repeat their high performance on the second examination will become finalists in the program and will indicate their choice of college and course of study. Further evaluation of their grades, citizenship and extra curricular achievements will follow, and the winners will be announced in the spring of 1959.

The test results will be available at the beginning of the senior year, in time for use by seniors and their class advisors. The scores may also be used in many high schools to help students make decisions about college and the most appropriate courses to major in. Many students throughout the country who do not expect to win registered for the test in order to learn more about their individual strengths and weaknesses.

Dr. John M. Stalmaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, recently cautioned that there are many reasons why test results cannot be used to evaluate school performance. The distribution of the population throughout the state, the size of the school, the native intelligence of its top students, the percentage of students taking the test, the nature of the community where the school is located, the purpose of the school, and many other factors having nothing to do with the total effectiveness of the school can influence its number of finalists.

The test results will, however, provide students as individuals to compare their scores with other students across the nation.

The test has been constructed by Science Research Associates of Chicago, and will also be scored and reported by the testing agency.

Each merit scholarship carries a stipend based on the need of each individual winner, and is renewable annually without further competitive examination. The average stipend in past years has been $650 per year. The minimum award in the 1958-59 program will be $100 a year and a maximum will be $1,500 a year.

Names of all program finalists will be sent to colleges and universities throughout the country. In this way many non-winning finalists are helped in winning scholarships awardsd directly by colleges and other organizations.

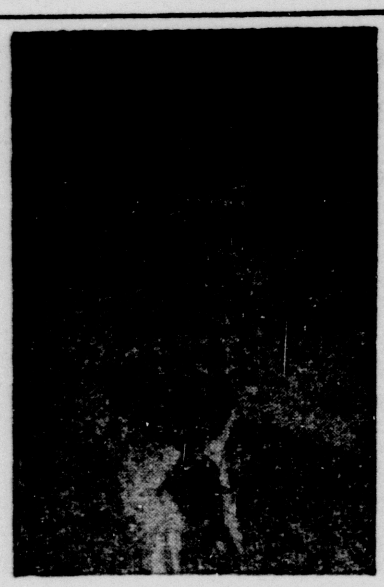

About 1,000 merit scholars, winners of the 1957-58 competition, were named May 1. They are winners in the third merit program which began last October.

The National Merit Scholarship Corporation directs the annual competition. It was founded in 1955, and grants of $20,000,000 by the Ford Foundation and $500,000 by the Carnegie Corporation of New York.

Easy-to-Get Jobs For Grads May Be Past, Says Babson

The big paying, easy-to-get first job out of college is something we shall see less of this year, declares Roger W. Babson, leading economist of the country, and regular writer for

Roger W. Babson

Company recruitment officers are saying that "this year for the first time in a The Herald. He continues with these comments: long while we shall find plenty of June graduates around at prices we want to pay."

Babson studies of business activity have for some months now revealed a mild softening in both employment and payrolls. The cause of this slowdown in the cycle can be attributed to a number of things; among these are rising productivity through technological advances, automation and declines in government spending.

The reason I am writing this article now instead of in the spring is to try to make both young people and their parents aware of this changed condition. If a college education teaches nothing else, it should make individuals aware that survival of the fittest is a law of nature not likely to be repealed in a hurry by any Congress, Soviet or college placement officer!

You may be surprsied to know that there are a number of last June's graduates who have not yet been able to find full time employment of the kind they want. I learned from one large eastern university recently that better than 20 per cent of its last June graduates had failed to find employment to their liking by Labor Day. Some are still working at part time jobs; some have gone back to college for graduate work. While this figure may be somewhat atypical, it does, nevertheless, point up a trend.

Did you know, too, that a fair sprinkling of last June's graduates who did get jobs have already been "excessed" by their employers? This word "excess" is a lovely new personnel word which means "you are a nice enough individual; you have done well on the job; we would like to have you around, but we just don't need you any more." In short, he has been fired!

One well known college placement officer has stated that he expects the number of campus visits by companies this year to be cut by 50 per cent. I cannot agree with this; but, I do say there will be some shrinkage.

If, therefore, you expect to graduate from school or college this year, and want a job, start hunting now. Include these things in your preparation: (1) Make an appraisal of yourself. Know your vocational interests, strengths and weaknesses. (2) Find out what kinds of jobs can best use your abilities, education and experience: working with people, with numbers or with materials and things? (3) Investigate your college library to find out what companies offer what kinds of jobs. (4) Go to a good financial source book and check specific companies for growth potential and product diversification.

(5) Have a general knowledge before you go into the interview of each company as well as of the industry it represents. (6) Be able to tell a prospective employer in a general way why you are interested in his particular industry and his company. (7) Set up a contact schedule for yourself, and send a resume a day to companies you think you would like to work for, asking for the privilege of an interview. (8) When interview time comes, be able to talk intelligently about yourself, indicating again, in a general way, the kinds of things you think you might be able to do on the job. (9) Send a follow-up letter after the interview.

Sure, this is a lot of work, and it takes a good deal of time! But the person who fails to take minimal steps of this sort is mentally lazy. Time spent now in getting ready for interviews is far better employed than time wasted in interviews from which you will obviously be "washed out" because of your lack of preparation. It is also far better than time spent later on a job for which you have neither the interest nor the aptitudes.

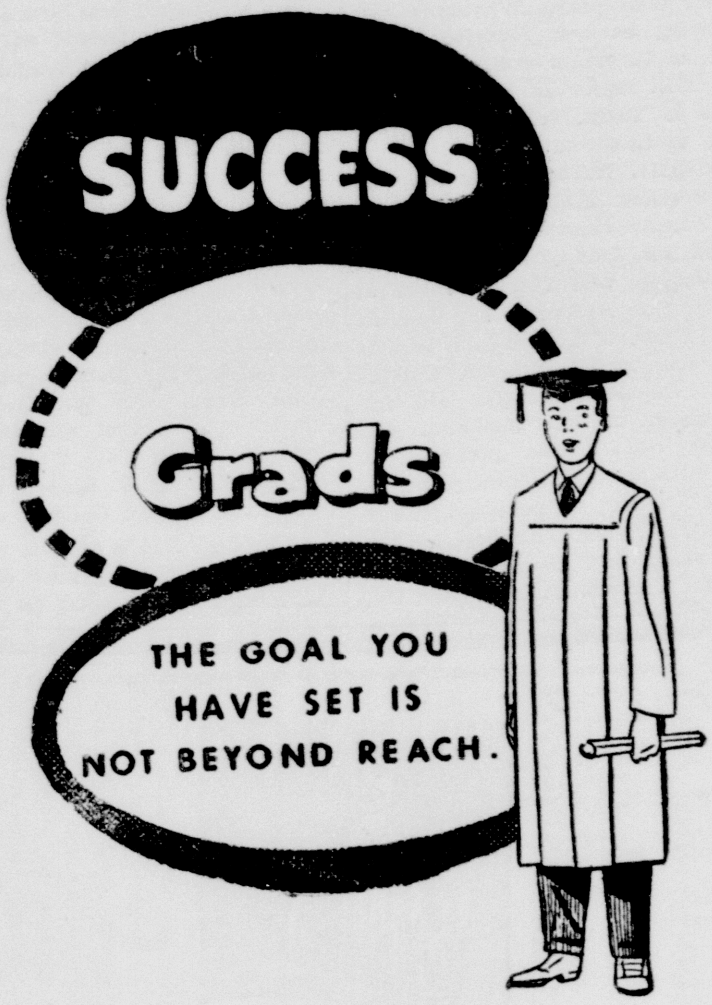

TEACHER'S IN A DREAM—Annanelle Hardt, pert young Austin school teacher who calls Alice her home, does some day dreaming while preparing for a five-week trip to Russia to see how the Soviets teach their children. Miss Hardt, a second grade teacher, will be one of a 40-member band sailing June 30 from Quebec as the first contingent of U. S. students to take part in a new cultural exchange agreement with the USSR. A 20-member Russian delegation will visit the United States at the same time.

Two lions escaped from the zoo in Washington, D. C., and didn't meet again for several weeks. One was fat, the other nothing but skin and bones. When they finally met, the emaciated one said:

"I've never seen you looking better. How in the world do you manage to be so well fed?"

Fat Lion—"I've been hiding in the Pentagon and eating a general every day. So far nobody's noticed it."
